Artillery Hell:

Artillery Hell Curt Johnson, Richard Claire Anderson, 1995 Five essays detail the artillery used by both Union and Confederate forces in the Battle of Antietam near Sharpsburg Maryland in September 1862 The core essay was written in 1940 for the National Park Service but first published here Together they discuss the types and capabilities of the artillery pieces the problems faced by the commanders and what can be conjectured about their placement and engagement Also includes six reports by Union officers just after the battle Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Hell's Islands Stanley Coleman Jersey, 2008 Presents battlefield accounts and first person narratives from over 200 Allied and Japanese veterans of the battle on Guadalcanal Island between August 1942 and February 1943 Civil War Field Artillery Earl J. Hess, 2022-10-05 The American Civil War saw the creation of the largest most potent artillery force ever deployed in a conflict fought in the Western Hemisphere It was as sizable and powerful as any raised in prior European wars Moreover Union and Confederate artillery included the largest number of rifled pieces fielded in any conflagration in the world up to that point Earl J Hess s Civil War Field Artillery is the first comprehensive general history of the artillery arm that supported infantry and cavalry in the conflict Based on deep and expansive research it serves as an exhaustive examination with abundant new interpretations that reenvision the Civil War s military Hess explores the major factors that affected artillerists and their work including the hardware the organization of artillery power relationships between artillery officers and other commanders and the influence of environmental factors on battlefield effectiveness He also examines the lives of artillerymen the use of artillery horses manpower replacement practices effects of the widespread construction of field fortifications on artillery performance and the problems of resupplying batteries in the field In one of his numerous reevaluations Hess suggests that the early war practice of dispersing guns and assigning them to infantry brigades or divisions did not inhibit the massing of artillery power on the battlefield and that the concentration system employed during the latter half of the conflict failed to produce a greater concentration of guns In another break with previous scholarship he shows that the efficacy of fuzes to explode long range ordnance proved a problem that neither side was able to resolve during the war Indeed cumulative data on the types of projectiles fired in battle show that commanders lessened their use of the new long range exploding ordnance due to bad fuzes and instead increased their use of solid shot the oldest artillery projectile in history Hell's Highway George Koskimaki, 2013-05-07 The author of The Battered Bastards of Bastogne does a superb job of telling the history the 101st Airborne Division during Operation Market Garden Kepler s Book Reviews Hell s Highway is a history most of which has never before been written It is adventure recorded by those who lived it and put into context by an author who was also there It is human drama on an enormous scale told through the personal stories of 612 contributors of written and oral accounts of the Screaming Eagles part in the attempt to liberate the Netherlands Koskimaki is an expert in weaving together individual recollections to make a compelling and uniquely first hand account of the bravery and deprivations suffered by the troops and their hopes fears triumphs and tragedies as well as those of Dutch civilians caught up in the action There have been many books published on Operation Market Garden and there will surely be more This book however gets to the heart of the action The big picture which most histories paint here is just the context for the real history on the ground

The Maryland Campaign of September 1862 Ezra Carman, Thomas Clemens, 2012-09-19 Antietam is the eagerly awaited second volume of Ezra Carman s magisterial The Maryland Campaign of September 1862 Many authors have written about the climactic September 17 battle of the 1862 invasion of Maryland but it is impossible to do so without referencing Carman s sweeping and definitive maps and 1 800 page manuscript His work guides every Civil War historian and comprises the basis of the National Park Service s interpretive programs at Antietam Indeed even the basic layout of the National Park battlefield was based upon Carman s groundbreaking work Carman had the advantage of not only participating in the battle as a colonel in the Union army but knowing corresponding and conversing with hundreds of Northern and Southern soldiers from corps commanders all the way down to privates Over the decades he amassed a vast collection of letters maps and personal memoirs from many key participants He used this treasure trove of firsthand accounts to create his compelling narrative No one has devoted more time and effort to understanding what happened at Antietam than did Ezra Carman the campaign s first true historian Unfortunately Carman did not always note from where he obtained his information making the authenticity and reliability of his work problematic Editor Thomas G Clemens recognized internationally as one of the foremost historians of the Maryland Campaign has spent more than two decades studying Antietam and editing and richly annotating Carman s exhaustively written manuscript As Clemens discovered Carman used his sources judiciously and the stories he relates withstand scrutiny for accuracy and reliability Carman's invaluable prose is augmented by his detailed maps of the dawn to nearly dusk fighting on September 17 which have never appeared in their original form in any book on the battle Even more exciting are the newly discovered 19th century photographs authorized by Carman to document his work laying out the battlefield a haunting visual record of how the battlefield appeared to Carman as he tried to unravel its mysteries The result is The Maryland Campaign of September 1862 Antietam the most comprehensive and detailed account of the battle ever produced Jammed with firsthand accounts personal anecdotes detailed footnotes maps and photos this long awaited study will be read and appreciated as battle history at its finest Indeed we will never see such a study again About the Authors Ezra Ayres Carman was born in Oak Tree New Jersey on February 27 1834 and educated at Western Military Academy in Kentucky He fought with New Jersey organizations throughout the Civil War He died in 1909 on Christmas day and was buried just below the Custis Lee mansion in Arlington Cemetery Thomas G Clemens earned his doctoral degree at George Mason University where he studied under Maryland Campaign historian Dr Joseph L Harsh Tom has published a wide variety of magazine articles and book reviews has appeared in several documentary programs and is a licensed tour guide at Antietam National Battlefield A retired professor from Hagerstown Community College he also helped found and is the current president of Save Historic Antietam Foundation Inc a preservation group dedicated to saving historic properties
