Artists of Colonial America Elisabeth Roark,2003-12-30 Discusses the lives of ten colonial American artists Art in America Suzanne La Follette,1929 Daily Life in the Colonial City Keith T. Krawczynski,2013-02-20 An exploration of day to day urban life in colonial America The American city was an integral part of the colonial experience Although the five largest cities in colonial America Philadelphia New York Boston Charles Town and Newport held less than ten percent of the American population on the eve of the American Revolution they were particularly significant for a people who resided mostly in rural areas and wilderness These cities and other urban hubs contained and preserved the European traditions habits customs and institutions from which their residents had emerged They were also centers of commerce transportation and communication held seats of colonial government and were conduits for the transfer of Old World cultures With a focus on the five largest cities but also including life in smaller urban centers Krawczynski's nuanced treatment will fill a significant gap on the reference shelves and serve as an essential source for students of American history sociology and culture In depth thematic chapters explore many aspects of urban life in colonial America including working conditions for men women children free blacks and slaves as well as strikes and labor issues the class hierarchy and its purpose in urban society childbirth courtship family and death housing styles and urban diet and the threat of disease and the growth of poverty The Art of Colonial America Shirley Glubok,1970 Discussions of colonial paintings buildings and household objects trace the history of art in colonial America American Art Yale University Art Gallery,2023-06-27 A tour through the Yale University Art Gallery's holdings of American art one of the most exceptional museum collections of its kind This volume presents an engaging selection of highlights and introduces readers to the richness and diversity of the Yale University Art Gallery's holdings of American art An introductory essay outlines pivotal moments in the three hundred year history of collecting exhibiting and teaching with American art at Yale and commemorates the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Friends of American Arts at Yale whose support continues to ensure the excellence of the collection The more than one hundred object entries that follow create a narrative that charts the multiplicity of experiences and accomplishments of artists and artisans living and working in North America from the earliest days of European settlement to the present Among the catalogued objects are works by some of the best known names in American art as well as recent acquisitions and masterpieces that represent diverse American identities A dazzling range of media is displayed including paintings and sculpture medals prints and drawings photographs jewelry furniture and decorative arts Each object is illustrated with a full page image and is accompanied by a one page discussion that focuses on its contribution to the history of American art Distributed for the Yale University Art Gallery American Artists Reflect American History: Colonial America Shanon Fitzpatrick,1994 Remembrance of Patria Roderic H. Blackburn,Ruth Piwonka,1988-01-01 How much of the Dutch world in America survived after the English One hundred years after the English took control of New Netherland in

1664 New York retained many Dutch characteristics The cultural milieu shifted abruptly however with population growth and increased affluence following the termination of the French and Indian Wars in 1760 British customs and tastes that were stylishly attractive to a new generation of moneyed colonists soon put Dutch culture in retreat in all but the most isolated areas Some elements of the past persisted in ways never dreamed of by the Dutch West India Company officials who oversaw their nation s colonization in America These include caucus politics separation of church and state neighborly evening visits on the stoop and Santa Claus Even more striking is the similarity between principles and practices that emerged in the Dutch Republic four centuries ago and some of the precepts on which the American republic was founded Much of the Dutch cultural and social history may be interpreted and understood through objects they brought with them and from those objects and structures they created in the New World This landmark volume originating in a major exhibit commemorating the tricentennial of the city of Albany uncovers the range of Dutch colonial experience in America through some 350 objects paintings furniture silver gold ceramics textiles prints drawings and architecture The result is a rare and remarkable glimpse of New Netherland a long ago world that continues to resonate today Roderic H Blackburn is an ethnologist and architectural historian who has held positions as Director of Research at Historic Cherry Hill Assistant Director of the Albany Institute of History and Art and Senior Research Fellow at the New York State Museum He is the author of Dutch Colonial Homes in America and Great Houses of New England Ruth Piwonka is the author of A Portrait of Livingston Manor 1686 1850 and the coauthor with Roderic H Blackburn of A Visible Heritage Columbia County New York A History in Art and Architecture
