Arts Approaches To Conflict:

Arts Approaches to Conflict Marian Liebmann,1996 Arts Approaches to Conflict explores how various arts approaches can both raise our understanding of conflict and lead to its constructive resolution Practitioners and experts from a wide range of art forms examine their own fields as approaches to conflict It is fascinating and eye opening reading for students and practitioners

Handbook of Research on Promoting Peace Through Practice, Academia, and the Arts Lutfy, Mohamed Walid, Toffolo, Cris,2018-09-07 Academic disciplines perceive tranquility and a sense of contentment differently among themselves and therefore contribute to peace building initiatives differently Peace is not merely a function of education or a tool that produces amicable systems but rather a concept that educational contributions can help societies progress to a more peaceful existence The Handbook of Research on Promoting Peace Through Practice Academia and the Arts aims to provide readers with a concise overview of proactive positive peace models and practices to counter the overemphasis on merely ending wars as a solution While approaching peace building through multiple vantage points and academic fields such as the humanities arts social sciences and theology this valuable resource promotes peace building as a cooperative effort This publication is a vital reference work for humanitarian workers leaders educators policymakers academicians undergraduate and graduate level students and researchers

The ISA Handbook in Contemporary Sociology Ann Denis,Devorah Kalekin-Fishman,2009-07-01 This International Sociological Association Handbook presents and tracks the transformation of the societies and social relations that characterize the twenty first century The volume is organized around a conceptualization of three processes that are fundamental to the analyses of micro meso and macro social relations Conflict Competition and Cooperation Case studies discuss and contextualize debates within an international overview of relevant literature incorporating material about North America Latin America Europe Africa and Asia

Creative Diplomacy Kassandra Bucher,2019 Contemporary conflicts in the 21st century are challenging traditional diplomacy because they are increasingly caused by identity or value based issues in addition to the tangible reasons for conflict such as disputes over land water or other resources As a result traditional forms of conflict resolution for instance official talks on the state level fail to reach a sufficient peace agreement The socio psychological dimension of conflict becomes increasingly important in so called protracted social conflicts Thereby new forms of conflict handling are required One approach in doing so is art based conflict transformation which tries to create opportunities for constructive change to alter the conflict in the long run In this thesis a holistic framework for art based conflict transformation is developed based on theories of conflict analysis conflict transformation and transformative art practices The model is used to analyze how the arts can contribute to conflict transformation exemplified by the Israeli Palestinian conflict which qualifies as a protracted social conflict Therefore its formation will be shown and two art projects the Human Theatre and Heartbeat which tackle the conflict on the grassroots level will be evaluated It will be shown that the Israeli Palestinian conflict is characterized by deep rooted animosities persisting enemy images and different narratives of the conflict which justifies discrimination and violent actions on both sides It is argued that the arts drive change on the individual level and on the level of conflict party in a narrower sense They tackle the relational and symbolic sources of conflict and thereby are an effective complementary to traditional track one and track two diplomacy The arts contribute to conflict transformation by facilitating firstly dialogue enabling relationships to be formed secondly resilience against the mental and physical oppression Peacebuilding and the Arts Jolyon Mitchell, Giselle Vincett, Theodora Hawksley, Hal Culbertson, 2019-11-19 Ending violent conflict requires societies to take leaps of political imagination Artistic communities are often uniquely placed to help promote new thinking by enabling people to see things differently In place of conflict's binary divisions artists are often charged with exploring the ambiguities and possibilities of the excluded middle Yet their role in peacebuilding remains little explored This excellent and agenda setting volume provides a ground breaking look at a range of artistic practices and the ways in which they have attempted to support peacebuilding a must read for all practitioners and policy makers and indeed other peacemakers looking for inspiration Professor Christine Bell FBA Professor of Constitutional Law Assistant Principal Global Justice and co director of the Global Justice Academy The University of Edinburgh UK Peacebuilding and the Arts offers an impressive and impressively comprehensive engagement with the role that visual art music literature film and theatre play in building peaceful and just societies Without idealizing the role of the arts the authors explore their potential and limits in a wide range of cases from Korea Cambodia Colombia and Northern Ireland to Uganda Rwanda South Africa and Israel Palestine Roland Bleiker Professor of International Relations University of Queensland Australia and author of Aesthetics and World Politics and Visual Global Politics Peacebuilding and the Arts is the first publication to focus critically and comprehensively on the relations between the creative arts and peacebuilding expanding the conventional boundaries of peacebuilding and conflict transformation to include the artist actor poet novelist dramatist musician dancer and film director The sections on the visual arts music literature film and theatre include case studies from very different cultures contexts and settings but a central theme is that the creative arts can play a unique and crucial role in the building of peaceful and just societies with the power to transform relationships heal wounds and nurture compassion and empathy Peacebuilding and the Arts is a vital and unique resource which will stimulate critical discussion and further research but it will also help to refine and reframe our understanding of peacebuilding While it will undoubtedly become mandatory reading for students of peacebuilding and the arts its original approach and dynamic exploratory style should attract a much wider interdisciplinary audience Professor Anna King Professor of Religious Studies and Social Anthropology and Director of Research Centre of Religion Reconciliation and Peace WCRRP University of Winchester UK This volume explores the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Through a series of original essays authors consider some of the ways that different art forms including film theatre music literature dance and other forms of visual art can contribute to the processes and practices of building peace This book

breaks new ground by setting out fresh ways of analysing the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Divided into five sections on the Visual Arts Music Literature Film and Theatre Dance over 20 authors offer conceptual overviews of each art form as well as new case studies from around the globe and critical reflections on how the arts can contribute to peacebuilding As interest in the topic increases no other book approaches this complex relationship in the way that Peacebuilding and the Arts does By bringing together the insights of scholars and practitioners working at the intersection of the arts and peacebuilding this book develops a series of unique critical perspectives on the interaction of diverse art forms with a range of peacebuilding endeavours An Approach to Art Mary Mullen,1923 Dancing through the dissonance Lesley Pruitt, Erica Rose Jeffrey,2020-05-01 Conflicts are increasingly recognised as situated in local contexts with culturally specific elements playing important roles At the same time conflicts reflect and contribute to global dynamics Seeking peace within this complexity requires curious creative and critical approaches that can account for politics But how can peacebuilders account for unique local settings while also recognising multiple and diverse perspectives within and between them Reflecting on this question Dancing through the dissonance explores the relationship between peacebuilding and dance in pluralist societies examining the practice of dance focused peacebuilding programmes in Colombia the Philippines and the United States Incorporating participant voices critical political analysis and reflections on dance practice the authors reveal the implications and nuances of arts based peace initiatives This book offers a unique insight into the application practice and analysis of dance focused peacebuilding programmes building on a critical understanding of the politics of integrating dance into peacebuilding and the ways in which these programmes fit into global debates around peace and conflict As the global community continues to seek inclusive pathways to peace that improve upon supplement or replace existing dominant approaches this book provides a valuable in depth analysis and recommendations for arts based peacebuilding approaches
