China Ebays On Geography:

Entrepreneurship and Economic Growth in China Ting Zhang, Roger Stough, 2013 This book provides an analysis of the existing economic dynamics and factors contributing to entrepreneurship in China Featuring contributions from prominent authors such as Zoltan Acs and Jian Gao it first poses a theoretical question of whether entrepreneurship exists in China and if so the extent and form it takes This book also examines whether the nature of entrepreneurship in China differs from that elsewhere Following this investigation empirical tests and analyses focus on important issues such as What is the special value of entrepreneurship in China Does entrepreneurship in China drive economic growth like it does in other more market oriented economies What is entrepreneurship in China like What is its history nature environment and what are some of the underlying diversities or challenges it is facing Assuming entrepreneurship in China is important to economic growth how can public policy help to enhance the entrepreneurship milieu in China Finally based on the empirical findings and potential policy implications future directions of investigation are suggested

The World-wide Atlas of Modern Geography, Political and Physical W. & A.K. Johnston Limited, 1921

Globalisation and Services-driven Economic Growth Niels Beerepoot, Bart Lambregts, Jana Kleibert, 2016-07-28 Following drastic shifts in the spatial organization of goods production increasingly fierce competition now forces firms also to look critically at how to organize the production of services While digitization and advances in information and communication technologies have enabled firms to unbundle service production processes the increased global availability of skilled labour allows for the relocation of ever more of these processes around the world As a result a new geography of services production takes shape a geography that is defined by new interregional and international divisions of labour and held together by increasingly complex global services production networks This book examines how the reorganisation of services production alters relations between and generates different sets of challenges and opportunities for economic development in the Global North and the Global South Drawing from 11 case studies probing various aspects of services production in different parts of the world the book brings out the remarkable heterogeneity and transformative capacities of services It successively shows how global trade in services creates new interdependencies between services producing and services consuming regions reveals how services help to mitigate the impact of and contribute to recovery from economic crises in the Global North and demonstrates how services offshoring fosters economic development and service sector driven modernisation processes in the Global South The book s openness to the heterogeneous and dynamic nature of services production enlarges our understanding of which particular services in which spatiotemporal context have the capacity to generate good jobs contribute to productivity and drive economic growth The book stands out from other books in the field in that it combines perspectives on services driven transformations from both the Global North and the Global South and looks into the role of various services segments Based on pioneering empirical research and original data it offers a timely contribution to this growing debate The book provides valuable insights for students scholars and professionals interested in services services offshoring services driven growth and socioeconomic transformations in the Global North and South

Digital agriculture report: Rural e-commerce development experience from China Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Zhejiang University, 2021-08-25 This publication produced by FAO and Zhejiang University examines how rural e-commerce could advance the digital transformation of agri-food systems including increasing production efficiency expanding farmers market access improving poverty alleviation fostering agricultural entrepreneurship and attracting young generations back to their villages for economic revival and rural revitalization It is highlighted that an enabling ecosystem with favourable government policies and strategies public private partnerships and innovative business models is of great importance to accelerate the development of rural areas in China and generate larger economic social and environmental impacts As the largest developing country in the world the experience of digital agriculture transformation in China could be shared with other developing countries The report also discusses some of the challenges encountered and lessons learned during the development of rural e-commerce as well as the proposals for the way forward
