China The East Is Red:

China: the East is Red George Bales, 1969 The East Is Black Robeson Taj Frazier, 2015-02-15 During the Cold War several prominent African American radical activist intellectuals including W E B and Shirley Graham Du Bois journalist William Worthy Marxist feminist Vicki Garvin and freedom fighters Mabel and Robert Williams traveled and lived in China There they used a variety of media to express their solidarity with Chinese communism and to redefine the relationship between Asian struggles against imperialism and black American movements against social racial and economic injustice In The East Is Black Taj Frazier examines the ways in which these figures and the Chinese government embraced the idea of shared struggle against U S policies at home and abroad He analyzes their diverse cultural output newsletters print journalism radio broadcasts political cartoons lectures and documentaries to document how they imagined communist China's role within a broader vision of a worldwide anticapitalist coalition against racism and imperialism The East is Red Maslyn Williams, 1967 Re-envisioning the Chinese Revolution Ching Kwan Lee, 2007 A comprehensive study of contemporary memories of China's revolutionary epoch from the time of Japanese imperialism through the Cultural Revolution This volume examines the memories of a range of social groups including disenfranchised workers and rural women who have often been neglected in scholarship Cries of Joy, Songs of Sorrow Marc L. Moskowitz, 2009-11-24 Since the mid 1990s Taiwan's unique brand of Mandopop Mandarin Chinese language pop music has dictated the musical tastes of the mainland and the rest of Chinese speaking Asia Cries of Joy Songs of Sorrow explores Mandopop's surprisingly complex cultural implications in Taiwan and the PRC where it has established new gender roles created a vocabulary to express individualism and introduced transnational culture to a country that had closed its doors to the world for twenty years In his early chapters Marc L Moskowitz provides the historical background necessary to understand the contemporary Mandopop scene beginning with the birth of Chinese popular music in the East Asian jazz Mecca of 1920s Shanghai A brief overview of alternative musical genres in the PRC such as Beijing rock and revolutionary opera is included The section concludes with a look at the manner in which Taiwan's musical ethos has influenced the mainland's music industry and how Mandopop has brought Western music and cultural values to the PRC This leads to a discussion of Taiwan pop's exceptional hybridity beginning with foreign influences during the colonial period under the Dutch and Japanese and continuing with the country's political cultural and economic alliance with the U S Moskowitz addresses the resulting wealth of transnational musical influences from the rest of East Asia and the U S and Taiwan pop's appeal to audiences in both the PRC and Taiwan In doing so he explores how Mandopop's songs of sorrow with their ubiquitous themes of loneliness and isolation engage a range of emotional expression that resonates strongly in the PRC Later chapters examine the construction of male and female identities in Mandopop and look at the widespread condemnation of the genre by critics Drawing on analyses and data from earlier chapters including interviews with dozens of performers song writers and lay people in Taipei and Shanghai

Moskowitz attempts to answer the question Why if the music is as bad as some assert is it so central to the lives of the largest population in the world To answer he highlights Mandopop s important contribution as a poetic lament that simultaneously embraces and protests modern life Cries of Joy Songs of Sorrow is a highly readable introduction to an important but understudied East Asian phenomenon It will find a ready audience among scholars and students of Chinese and Taiwanese popular culture as well as musicologists studying transnational music flows and non Western popular music Is the East Still Red? Gary Blank,2015-02-27 Does China represent a non capitalist alternative to neoliberal development models Commentators on the left have offered sharply divergent assessments over the last two decades A few still cling the old dream of market socialism twinning efficiency with social justice For most however China is proof that market reforms invariably yield dispossession inequality and capitalist restoration Is the East Still Red argues that both interpretations are wrong and exhibit a common failure to distinguish between market mechanisms and capitalist imperatives Gary Blank situates the Chinese experience within broader Marxist debates on socio historical transitions and primitive accumulation highlighting the need to conceptualize capitalism as a unique system in which producers and appropriators depend on the market for their reproduction Despite years of marketization the mandarins in Beijing have not yet imposed full market dependence in industry and agriculture He shows how the resistance of workers and peasants the imperatives of party state legitimacy and the reproductive strategies of individual Communist officials and managers all act to perpetuate central aspects of a bureaucratic collectivist system in which direct producers and bureaucrats are effectively merged with the means of production The People s Republic may be a non capitalist market alternative albeit one that is hardly edifying for socialists

Composing for the State Esteban Buch,Igor Contreras Zubillaga,Manuel Deniz Silva,2016-01-27 Under the dictatorships of the twentieth century music never ceased to sound Even when they did not impose aesthetic standards these regimes tended to favour certain kinds of art music such as occasional works for commemorations or celebrations symphonic poems cantatas and choral settings In the same way composers who were more or less ideologically close to the regime wrote pieces of music on their own initiative which amounted to a support of the political order This book presents ten studies focusing on music inspired and promoted by regimes such as Nazi Germany Fascist Italy France under Vichy the USSR and its satellites Franco s Spain Salazar s Portugal Maoist China and Latin American dictatorships By discussing the musical works themselves whether they were conceived as ways to provide music for the people to personally honour the dictator or to participate in State commemorations of glorious historical events the book examines the relationship between the composers and the State This important volume therefore addresses theoretical issues long neglected by both musicologists and historians What is the relationship between art music and propaganda How did composers participate in musical life under the control of an authoritarian State What was specifically political in the works produced in these contexts How did audiences react to them Can we speak confidently about State music In this way Composing for the State
