Strange Tools Alva Noë, 2015-09-22 A philosopher makes the case for thinking of works of art as tools for investigating ourselves In Strange Tools Art and Human Nature the philosopher and cognitive scientist Alva Noë argues that our obsession with works of art has gotten in the way of understanding how art works on us For Noë art isn t a phenomenon in need of an explanation but a mode of research a method of investigating what makes us human a strange tool Art isn t just something to look at or listen to it is a challenge a dare to try to make sense of what it is all about Art aims not for satisfaction but for confrontation intervention and subversion Through diverse and provocative examples from the history of art making Noë reveals the transformative power of artistic production By staging a dance choreographers cast light on the way bodily movement organizes us Painting goes beyond depiction and representation to call into question the role of pictures in our lives Accordingly we cannot reduce art to some natural aesthetic sense or trigger recent efforts to frame questions of art in terms of neurobiology and evolutionary theory alone are doomed to fail By engaging with art we are able to study ourselves in profoundly novel ways In fact art and philosophy have much more in common than we might think Reframing the conversation around artists and their craft Strange Tools is a daring and stimulating intervention in contemporary thought Praise for Strange Tools With incisive arguments and in crisp and engaging prose Strange Tools brings the discourse on the function of art and beauty to a different level Science A stimulating and wide ranging investigation of the meaning of art A searching and learned response to vexing long debated questions Kirkus Reviews Noë offers a unique analysis on the role of art and also philosophy in our lives Readers with an interest in philosophy aesthetics or art will find this an accessible and engaging read Library Journal
