The Concept of Social Structure Douglas Porpora, 1987 Porpora is concerned with the concept of social structure and with the relationship between social structure and the individual He focuses on two different conceptions of social structure the Durkheimian conception which is the dominant way in which social structure is conceptualized by sociologists and an alternative conception based on a reading of Marx The author discusses in depth the various aspects of these two divergent theories and shows how the Marxian conception of social structure underlies even the newer structural analyses of racism sexism and power that go beyond Marxian theory He offers a sustained critique of Structural Sociology's theoretical elimination of the individual actor which results in a corresponding elimination of any form of agency from the explanation of social structural processes

Lifestyle and Social Structure Michael E. Sobel, 2013-09-11 Lifestyle and Social Structure Concepts Definitions Analyses is devoted the relationship between lifestyle and social structure The book begins by constructing a meaningful concept of lifestyle in order to understand and model this relationship The general formulation of the concept hinges on the descriptive word style defined as any distinctive and therefore recognizable way in which an act is performed or an artifact made or ought to be performed and made After developing the implications of the definition lifestyle is defined by analogy as any distinctive and therefore recognizable mode of living The notion of social structure is then introduced arguing that structural differentiation engenders lifestyle differentiation The remainder of the work is concerned primarily with the modeling of this relationship using data from the 1972 1973 Survey of Consumer Expenditures and with the concept of stylistic unity Key topics discussed include the relationship between the theory of lifestyle differentiation and modern economic utility theory psychographic notions of lifestyle and the relationships between lifestyle and other key sociological concepts stratification alienation The concept of
