Century Of Homemaking:

A 20th Century Homemaker Richard H. Smith,2009 America s homemakers of the twentieth century were its heart and soul Their quiet dedication compassion and patience served as a strong foundation not only for their families but their associates and country as well Mary Louise Smith personified the type of woman that worked behind the scenes Born in Chicago in 1917 she spent her childhood in California and learned the value of hard work as her family struggled during the Great Depression An excellent student she graduated with a teaching credential from UC Berkeley While teaching at Chaffey High School in Ontario California in 1943 she agreed to be a hostess at an Officers Club dance There she granted a dance to Second Lt Richard H Smith Over the next twenty six months she would write more than four hundred letters to Richard as he served overseas Their romance was a cautious one but they grew closer over time and eventually married in 1946 In the years that followed Mary Louise was a homemaker with a quiet joyful spirit However she was just one of many and in this touching tribute her husband explains how her tasks and challenges were typical of A 20th Century Homemaker

Home Making Marion Harland,1911 A Second Course in Homemaking Mabel Hyde Kittredge,1915 Buying for the Home Margaret Ponsonby,2017-03-02 Buying for the Home is a book about the experiences and also the polarities of shopping and the home It analyses the ways in which the agencies and discourses of the retail environment mesh with the processes of physical and imaginative re creation that constitute the domestic space teasing out the negotiations and interactions that mediate this key arena The study examines how the strategies of retailers were both arbitrated by and negotiated through the actions and desires of the homemaker as consumer Drawing on the recent CHORD Centre for the History of Retail and Distribution colloquium on shopping and the domestic environment and including two specially commissioned pieces the book draws on a wide selection of interdisciplinary work from established scholars and new researchers Organised around four key themes retail arenas and the everyday identity and lifestyle fashioning domestic space and cultural practice the ten case studies cover a range of cultural encounters and locations from the seventeenth to the late twentieth century Through these interdisciplinary but linked case studies Buying for the Home forces us to consider the fractured space that existed between the world of goods and the middle and working class home and in so doing interrogate how middle class and plebeian homemakers view imagine and ultimately occupy their domestic spaces in early modern modern and post modern society
