Celluloid Saints:

Celluloid Saints Theresa Sanders, 2002 The book is written with two goals in mind The first is to give film viewers some background and context for evaluating what they see on screen By and large Hollywood is not conversant with theological issues occasionally movies reveal an appalling ignorance about religion More often however the approach movies take is simply flat footed and unsophisticated Giving readers the tools they need to interpret and critique cinematic portrayals of sanctity is one goal of this book

Through a Catholic Lens Peter Malone, 2007-04-16 Movies are often examined for subtext and dramatizations of social and psychological issues as well as current movements Studies of well known Catholic directors such as Alfred Hitchcock and John Ford have made the search for Catholic themes a reputable field of examination Through a Catholic Lens continues the search for these themes and examines the Catholic undercurrents by studying nineteen film directors from around the world Although these directors may or may not be practicing Catholics their Catholic background can be found in their writing and directing Each chapter written by a different contributor analyzes one film of each director for its Catholic motifs With the recent increase of cinema studies this collection will be of interest to students and academics as well as cinema buffs
