Dissent Events Protest And The Media In Australia:

Dissent Events Sean Scalmer, 2002 Dissent Events Protest the Media and the Political Gimmick in Australia offers a contemporary history of collective action in Australia over the last four decades from the halting experiments of the early sixties to more recent actions involving Pauline Hanson's One Nation Party the quest for reconciliation and the anti corporate campaigners of the S11 Alliance It tells the story of these performances develops a set of concepts to analyse their changing form and illuminates the larger story of social and political change in recent Australian life BOOK JACKET

Fighting Against War Julie Kimber, Phillip Deery, Karen Agutter, Anne Beggs-Sunter, Robert Bollard, Verity Burgmann, Liam Byrne, Lachlan Clohesy, Rhys Cooper, Carolyn Holbrook, Nick Irving, Chris McConville, Douglas Newton, Bobbie Oliver, Carolyn Rasmussen, Phil Roberts, Kim Thoday, 2015-02-13 The extended commemorations to mark the 100th anniversary of the Great War have commenced in earnest Over the next four years people around the world will struggle to avoid the politicised public narratives of these remembrances Nationalistic sentiment is no less palpable today than imperial sentiment was a century ago Its opponents are still there too Among the countless commemorative activities that will occur there are innumerable counter narratives Although they are compelling in their telling of oppositional stories they have yet to capture the imagination of the dominant storytellers of our generation Mainstream media governments and politicians of all persuasions remain a captive of soft jingoism and the myth making of Geoffrey Serle's fire eating generals In such a view war remains a lamentable but necessary evil The true costs of war are absorbed only partially Given the destabilisation of much of the globe and the increasing militarisation of domestic politics by Western governments it is unsurprising that a widespread movement for peace is momentarily lost But history provides hope By looking back we can see the ebb and flow of peace movements and the lessons here are instructive The present commemorative phase provides historians with a license to tell the stories that underscore the feeble fabric of nationalistic hubris ones that seek to analyse and understand the human condition rather than simply commemorate it Tales of national re birth are but one facet of war complicated by a much richer dirtier and more nuanced reality This reality challenges the necessity of war and allows us to empathise with war's victims elucidate oppositional tactics and provide explanations for the difficulties in sustaining a pacifist approach in the midst of war The chapters here deal with aspects of peace and anti war of memory of forgetting and of legacy The majority unsurprisingly given the present historical moment concentrate on the experience of the First World War The shadows of that war are long and the historiography they build on extensive Contributors include Phillip Deery Julie Kimber Karen Agutter Anne Beggs Sunter Robert Bollard Verity Burgmann Liam Byrne Lachlan Clohesy Rhys Cooper Carolyn Holbrook Nick Irving Chris McConville Douglas Newton Bobbie Oliver Carolyn Rasmussen Phil Roberts and Kim Thoday

Australian Soldiers in South Africa and Vietnam Effie Karageorgos,2016-03-24 The South African and Vietnam Wars provoked dramatically different reactions in Australians from pro British jingoism on the eve of Federation to the anti war protest movements of the 1960s In contrast the letters and diaries of Australian soldiers written while on the South African and Vietnam battlefields reveal that their reactions to the war they were fighting were surprisingly unlike those on the home fronts from which they came Australian Soldiers in South Africa and Vietnam follows these combat men from enlistment to the war front and analyses their words alongside theories of soldiering to demonstrate the transformation of soldiers as a response to developments in military procedure as well as changing civilian opinion In this way the book illustrates the strength of a soldier s link to their home front lives

Animals Count Nancy Cushing,Jodi Frawley,2018-06-13 Whether their populations are perceived as too large just right too small or non existent animal numbers matter to the humans with whom they share environments Animals in the right numbers are accepted and even welcomed but when they are seen to deviate from the human declared set point they become either enemies upon whom to declare war or victims to be protected In this edited volume leading and emerging scholars investigate for the first time the ways in which the size of an animal population impacts how they are viewed by humans and conversely how human perceptions of populations impact animals This collection explores the fortunes of amphibians mammals insects and fish whose numbers have created concern in settler Australia and examines shifts in these populations between excess abundance equilibrium scarcity and extinction The book points to the importance of caution in future campaigns to manipulate animal populations and demonstrates how approaches from the humanities can be deployed to bring fresh perspectives to understandings of how to live alongside other animals

The Politics and Aesthetics of Refusal Caroline Hamilton,2007 The Politics and Aesthetics of Refusal is an eclectic collection of essays from emerging academics who engage with the notion of oerefusal both as the embodiment of a resistance to conventional boundaries between academic disciplines and as a concept with an underlying negative or reactive force that can be widely interpreted and applied The applications of refusal outlined in this volume ranging from activism and the politics of cultural production through to problems of identity and knowledge classification raise questions about often elided relationships of agency and complicity in routine experience The sense of refusal that emerges from this book is perhaps most easily classified by what it is not namely a prescriptive conclusive or unified account of what it is to reject react or work against any particular instance of theory or practice in any given domain The value of a thematically oriented collection like this is its ability to work across disciplines media and philosophical frameworks rather than limiting its focus to a narrow territory According to Herbert Marcuse refusal must not only be the guiding principle for all artistic creation it must also be a manifestation of artistic creation itself With this volume we have attempted to compose a collection which is not only theoretically guided by refusal but practically informed by it as well The collection in itself constitutes we hope a constructive rejection of the usual constrictions of discipline and approach placed upon new scholars This rich collection of essays on the political aesthetic and ethical dimensions of that form of social action called refusal is an important contribution to our understanding of the tensions and contradictions of contemporary culture John Frow Professor of English Literary Studies at the University of Melbourne

Stuart Macintyre, Sean Scalmer, 2006 Providing a play on actual historical events versus possible ones this fascinating volume asks leading Australian historians to wonder what might be if key episodes in Australia's past had turned out differently Re-imagining Australia's environment race relations art political life and national identity this title poses such questions as What if France had colonized part of Australia in the 18th century What if the Australian and New Zealand Army Corps had played only a minor role in the Gallipoli landing in World War I and What if Aborigines had been granted citizenship much earlier
