Distant Homeland:

Distant Homeland Kay Stephens, Julia Franklin, 2009-07 After being attacked by a Messerschmitt while flying a Spitfire from the factory to the airfield Sally Downing is saved by Vaclav a British based Czech pilot They become close and when they are separated after the war Vaclav plans to steal a plane and be reunited with Sally Bound by Distance Pasquale Verdicchio, 1997 Bound by Distance takes its place among a growing body of scholarship the goal of which is to challenge the kind of thinking that reproduces the West as a stable and homogenous political and discursive entity The Italian nation with its peculiar process of formation the continuous tensions between its own northern and southern regions and its history of emigration provides an important case for complicating and reassessing concepts of national racial economic and cultural dominance The author analyzes the interactive space of the history of Italian state formation Italian subaltern literature Italian emigrant writing and the current situation of North African and Asian immigrants to Italy in order to contest the feigned homogeneity of the Italian nation and to complicate and reassess concepts of national racial economic and cultural dominance Toward a Philosophy of the Act M. M. Bakhtin, 2010-02-22 Rescued in 1972 from a storeroom in which rats and seeping water had severely damaged the fifty year old manuscript this text is the earliest major work 1919 1921 of the great Russian philosopher M M Bakhtin Toward a Philosophy of the Act contains the first occurrences of themes that occupied Bakhtin throughout his long career The topics of authoring responsibility self and other the moral significance of outsideness participatory thinking the implications for the individual subject of having no alibi in existence the difference between the world as experienced in actions and the world as represented in discourse all are broached here in the heat of discovery This is the heart of the heart of Bakhtin the center of the dialogue between being and language the world and mind the given and the created that forms the core of Bakhtin's distinctive dialogism A special feature of this work is Bakhtin's struggle with the philosophy of Immanuel Kant Put very simply this text is an attempt to go beyond Kant's formulation of the ethical imperative mci will be important for scholars across the humanities as they grapple with the increasingly vexed relationship between aesthetics and ethics Historical Archaeology of the Irish Diaspora Stephen A. Brighton, 2009 Between 1845 and 1852 a watershed event in Ireland's history the Great Hunger forced more than one million starved and dispossessed people most of them poor tenant farmers to leave their native country for the shores of the United States Further weakened by the arduous voyage across the Atlantic Ocean many sought refuge in the harbor cities in which they landed Not surprisingly Irish immigrants counted as one quarter of New York City's population during the 1850s In Historical Archaeology of the Irish Diaspora Stephen A Brighton places Irish and Irish American material culture within a broad historical context including the waves of immigration that preceded the Famine and the development of the Irish American communities that followed it He meticulously details the archaeological research connected with excavations at two pre Famine sites in County Roscommon Ireland and with several immigrant tenements located in the Five Points Manhattan and the Dublin section of nearby Paterson New Jersey Using this transnational approach to link artifacts and ceramics found in rural Ireland with those discovered in sites in the urban northeastern United States Brighton also employs contemporary diaspora studies to illustrate how various factions sustained a distinct homeland connection even as the Irish were first alienated from and then gradually incorporated into American society With more than forty million Americans claiming Irish ancestry fully understanding Ireland s traumatic history and its impact on the growth of the United States remains a vital task for researchers on both sides of the Atlantic Brighton s study of lived experience follows a fascinating historical path that will aid scholars in a variety of disciplines

Media and Communication in the Chinese Diaspora Wanning Sun, John Sinclair, 2015-09-16 The rise of China has brought about a dramatic increase in the rate of migration from mainland China At the same time the Chinese government has embarked on a full scale push for the internationalisation of Chinese media and culture Media and communication have therefore become crucial factors in shaping the increasingly fraught politics of transnational Chinese communities This book explores the changing nature of these communities and reveals their dynamic and complex relationship to the media in a range of countries worldwide Overall the book highlights a number of ways in which China s going global policy interacts with other factors in significantly reshaping the content and contours of the diasporic Chinese media landscape In doing so this book constitutes a major rethinking of Chinese transnationalism in the twenty first century

Distant Homeland Kay Stephens, 2004 Sally Downing contributes to the war effort by flying Spitfires from the factory to the airfields When she is attacked by a Messerschmitt she is mortified at the idea of losing the plane as much as she is terrified of losing her life but at the last minute an RAF Hurricane swoops from the clouds to rescue her

The Desertmakers Javier Uriarte, 2019-10-29 This book studies how the rhetoric of travel introduces different conceptualizations of space and time in scenarios of war during the last decades of the 19th century in Argentina Brazil Paraguay and Uruguay By examining accounts of war and travel in the context of the consolidation of state apparatuses in these countries Uriarte underlines the essential role that war in connection to empire and capital has played in the Latin American process of modernization and state formation In this book the analysis of British and Latin American travel narratives proves particularly productive in reading the ways in which national spaces are reconfigured reimagined and reappropriated by the state apparatus War turns out to be a central instrument not just for making possible this logic of appropriation but also for bringing temporal notions such as modernization and progress to spaces that were described albeit problematically as being outside of history The book argues that wars waged against deserts as Patagonia the sert o Paraguay and the Uruguayan countryside were described and imagined were in fact means of generating empty spaces real voids that were the condition for new foundations The study of travel writing is an essential tool for understanding the transformations of space brought by war and for analyzing in detail the forms and connotations of movement in connection to violence Uriarte pays particular attention to the effects that witnessing war had on the traveler s identity and on the relation
