Distant Episode:

A Distant Episode Paul Bowles, 2006-06-13 A Distant Episode contains the best of Paul Bowles's short stories as selected by the author. An American cult figure, Bowles has fascinated such disparate talents as Norman Mailer, Allen Ginsberg, Truman Capote, William S. Burroughs, Gore Vidal, and Jay McInerney. An Invisible Spectator Christopher Sawyer-Laucanno, 1999 Filled with insights into an enigma, USA Today An Invisible Spectator chronicles Paul Bowles's life and work interwoven with vivid depictions of the writer's intimates including Truman Capote, Gertrude Stein, Allen Ginsberg, and William Burroughs.

Tales of Psychology Alma Bond, 2002-08-27 Tales of Psychology consists of 19 short stories selected for their insight into human nature and their merit as fine works of literature. Each story is followed by a discussion of the psychological principles revealed. Reading this book will be a unique opportunity for lay readers and professional psychologists and writers alike to deepen their knowledge of human psychology. Tales of Psychology demonstrates that artists can learn the psychological understructure of their characters from the insight of an experienced psychologist. Similarly, the stories establish that lay people can absorb the teachings of these master writers in a captivating, painless manner. The conclusions reached in the stories beat out the findings of insightful psychology in a manner interesting to all. From publisher's description: Paul Bowles's Literary Engagement with Morocco Bouchra Benlemlih, 2018-01-05 This study argues that Paul Bowles is more perceptive than many American travelers in Morocco. The book provides us with what are perhaps the most sustained meditations to date on Bowles's translation work and his autobiography as well as perceptive analyses of key stories such as A Distant Episode and Here to Learn and his second novel Let It Come Down, set primarily in Tangier. The chapter on translation dwells on the complex interactions between Moroccan storytellers and Bowles. The work considers translation as a site where the oral and written, colonial and post-colonial, scene and English and Maghrebi, come face to face; it is a place where things are worked out in dynamic interaction. The chapter on Bowles's autobiography Without Stopping urges us to take this piece of self-writing, famously dubbed Without Telling by William Burroughs, more seriously, drawing our attention to baroque architectural features of mind and external landscape, worlds distorted by mirrors, dreams, and fluid transit where forms morph. The work also highlights the difference between experience and representation of experience through language transformed through the prism of memory. In the chapter on Without Stopping, as well as in my discussions of Bowles's fiction, I provide useful elaborations of connections between Bowles's work and that of Edgar Allan Poe. My reading of one of Bowles's best-known stories, A Distant Episode, brings to the surface a recognition that the tragic fate of the Professor, the story's protagonist, is an outcome of his inability to admit that cultures are not static. The academically trained linguist demonstrates an unwillingness or inability to adapt to change or to read cultural signs accurately. The message is that Morocco is not stuck in time and cannot be held in place by Orientalist fantasies or preconceived, externally derived intellectual constructs and assumptions. The book concludes that, against the grain of Samuel Huntington's notion of Clash of Civilizations, Bowles's poetic and geographical journey forcefully projects cosmopolitanism and transnational attention confirming that civilizations and identities open up rather than shut down war or clash A Distant Episode Paul Bowles,2003 Wretched Refuge Jessica Datema,Diane Krumrey,2010-02-19 Recent literary expressions of the immigrant experience reveal the postmodern narrative obsession with the immigrant as cultural and political outlier Wretched Refuge Immigrants and Itinerants in the Postmodern asks us to reimagine this preoccupation with what Junot Diaz calls the actual flows of third world bodies as part of a larger more pertinent motif of the postmodern itinerant As a figure of cultural becoming the itinerant stands for displacement and dispersion exceeding the confines of physical location political subjectivity and relation to the natural world Thus Wretched Refuge seeks to map the cosmopolitan positionalities of an immigrant or exilic experience the itinerant the migrant and other foreign bodies The essays in Wretched Refuge consider fiction memoir and pop culture genres that reconceive time space and the shifting situatedness of the subject within nature politics and culture The book weaves together modern and postmodern visions of itinerancy in the writings of Cormac McCarthy Bob Dylan Junot Diaz Edwidge Danticat Jeffrey Eugenides Jhumpa Lahiri Roberto Bola o Paul Bowles and Bill McKibben among others Throughout these radically different narratives the trace of the itinerant suggests a cosmopolitan response to localized anxieties about global hegemony

Cosmopolitan Minds Alexa Weik von Mossner,2014-05-15 The book explores the role of empathy and emotion in the emergence of cosmopolitan imaginations through the works of a diverse set of American writers who during World War II and the early Cold War period lived in Europe Asia and Africa It draws on theories of emotion and literary imagination from cognitive psychology philosophy and cognitive literary studies to offer a new perspective on the affective and imaginative underpinnings of critical and reflexive cosmopolitanism It argues that our emotional engagements with others real and imagined are crucially important for the development of cosmopolitan imaginations The book concentrates on specifically American cosmopolitan imaginations in the mid twentieth century focusing on a core of transnational writers who for various reasons had highly conflicted relationships with the American nation Kay Boyle Pearl S Buck Richard Wright William Gardner Smith and Paul Bowles Their literary works are emotionally powerful indictments of institutionalized racism and national violence inside and outside of the United States at the same time they testify to the complex cosmopolitan identities of their authors Reading these texts as affective cosmopolitan critiques the book works out important and complex role played by imaginative and emotional engagements in the development of solidarities that go beyond self family community and nation Reading transnational American literature from a cognitive perspective the book adds a new dimension to recent work in American literary history that seeks to reconceptualize U S literary and cultural production in its global context At the same time it also widens and deepens the array of literature available to researchers in cognitive literary studies Eve's Daughters Edward Dyne Fenton,1873 Titian: His Life and Times Joseph Archer Crowe,Giovanni Battista Cavalcaselle,1877 When No Man Pursueth Marie Belloc Lowndes,1910 A History of Painting in Italy, Umbria,
