Democracy and Human Rights in Africa Ateh-Afac Fossungu, 2013-04-08 Since the mid 1980s there has been much federalism talk in Cameroon where federation said to have been created in Fouban in 1961 had supposedly been overwhelmingly rejected in 1972 by Cameroonians Confusioncracy is the one good term that could conveniently explain it Written with the trilogy of criticism provocation and construction in mind this book aims at reconstructing a new and vigorous society in Cameroon that ensures respect for fundamental human rights and certain basic shared values Much as the book centres on the Anglophone Problem it is principally about human rights and their excessive violations the direct result of the absence of separation of powers and constitutionalism It largely condemns Cameroons government for incessantly singing democracy and rule of law at the same time as it is massively torturing and wantonly killing citizens that dare to question the confusion While sharing the position that a state like Cameroon must be seen to ensure that its laws and other practices accord with its international commitments the book nonetheless strives to apportion the blame for Cameroons human rights catastrophe accordingly showing how the English speaking minority itself generally speaking contributes to a large extent in propping up the dictatorship that is oppressing not only that minority but Cameroonians at large The book challenges Cameroon to assume a leadership role in uniting Africans through meaningful federalization

rather than further splitting them into incapable mini states on the challenging world stage

Unity in Diversity Christophe van der Beken, 2012 This book argues that the development of federalism in Ethiopia fits in with a global trend towards increased attention to ethnic minority rights and to federalism as a mechanism for ethnic conflict prevention and management The Ethiopian federation is designed as a framework within which the Ethiopian ethnic groups can protect their rights and within which they are stimulated to develop a cooperative relationship To put it differently the constitutional objective of the federal structure is the creation of unity in diversity The book evaluates the capacity of Ethiopian federalism to achieve this objective by investigating the relevant historical political and legal aspects Series Recht und Politik in Afrika Law and Politics in Africa Vol 10 Foreign Affairs, 2005 OECD Multi-level Governance Studies Making Decentralisation Work A Handbook for Policy-Makers OECD, 2019-03-19 This report offers a comprehensive overview of decentralisation policies and reforms in OECD countries and beyond Sometimes called a silent or quiet revolution decentralisation is among the most important reforms of the past 50 years The report argues that decentralisation outcomes in Innovation in the Public Sector, 2017 The public sector looms large economically both as a regulator of private economic activity and as a producer and consumer in its own right The rewards to innovation in the public sector can be huge but the obstacles can be formidable In this book policy makers and scholars from eight countries and two international organisations offer their unique insights on where the challenges lie and how they can be overcome This publication is part of an ongoing series highlighting some of the results of the UNECE Subprogramme on Economic Cooperation and Integration The objective of the Subprogramme is to promote a policy financial and regulatory environment conducive to economic growth knowledge base development and higher competitiveness in the UNECE region Back cover Regional Problems and Policies in OECD Countries Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 1976 Fiscal Federalism in Nigeria J. Isawa Elaigwu, 2007 In 1966 a soft spoken 32 year old man emerged from relative obscurity and humble background to become Nigeria's Head of State and Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces His name was Lt Col later General Yakubu Gowon He emerged as the compromise candidate following the political crisis that engulfed the country after the July 1966 military coup that had led to the assassination of the country's first military Head of State General Aguiyi Ironsi At the end of the Civil War in 1970 General Gowon's doctrine of No Victor No Vanquished greatly endeared him to many and he was variously dubbed Abraham Lincoln of Nigeria a soft spoken but dynamic leader a real gentleman and an almost faultless administrator However after he was overthrown in a military coup in July 1975 long knives were drawn out for him with the hitherto friendly press and public crying crucify him and now variously vilifying him as weak and of managing a purposeless administration that had led to the drifting of the nation In this book Professor J Isawa Elaigwu attempts a scholarly political biography of someone he believes has rendered great services to the Nigerian nation despite his weaknesses as a leader He rejects the notion that Gowon's nine years in office were nine years of failure as the General's ardent critics posit arguing that if it is possible to identify a number of thresholds in his administration it is also possible to identify the approximate point in time when the strains of his administration became visible to observers and the public in general He poses and methodically seeks answers to a number of fundamental questions Who was Yakubu Gowon Why and how was the reservoir of goodwill and credibility which he had accumulated by the end of the Civil War expended What image of Nigeria did he have when he came into power And did he ever achieve his objectives The book first published in 1986 has been revised and expanded for this edition
