Divine Roman:

The Son of God in the Roman World Michael Peppard, 2011-08-29 The author examines the social and political meaning of divine sonship in the Roman Empire He analyzes the conceptual framework within which the term son of God has traditionally been considered in biblical scholarship Then through engagement with recent scholarship in Roman history he offers new ways of interpreting the Christian theological metaphors of begotten and adoptive sonship He focuses on social practices and political ideology revealing that scholarship on divine sonship has been especially hampered by mistaken assumptions about adopted sons

God's Wounds: Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering, Volume Two Jeff B. Pool, 2010-01-01 This book constitutes the second volume of a three volume study of Christian testimonies to divine suffering God's Wounds Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering vol 2 Evil and Divine Suffering The larger study focuses its inquiry into the testimonies to divine suffering themselves seeking to allow the voices that attest to divine suffering to speak freely then to discover and elucidate the internal logic or rationality of this family of testimonies rather than defending these attestations against the dominant claims of classical Christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from Christian discourse about the nature and life of God This second volume of studies proceeds on the basis of the presuppositions of this symbol those implicit attestations that provide the conditions of possibility for divine suffering that which constitutes divine vulnerability with respect to creation as identified and examined in the first volume of this project an understanding of God through the primary metaphor of love God is love and an understanding of the human as created in the image of God with a life though finite analogous to the divine life the imago Dei as love The second volume then investigates the first two divine wounds or modes of divine suffering to which the larger family of testimonies to divine suffering normally attest 1 divine grief suffering because of betrayal by the beloved human or human sin and 2 divine self sacrifice suffering for the beloved human in its bondage to sin or misery to establish the possibility of redemption and reconciliation Each divine wound thus constitutes a response to a creaturely occasion The suffering in each divine wound also occurs in two stages a passive stage and an active stage In divine grief God suffers because of human sin betrayal of the divine lover by the beloved human divine sorrow as the passive stage of divine grief and divine anguish as the active stage of divine grief In divine self sacrifice God suffers in response to the misery or bondage of the beloved human's infidelity divine travail focused on the divine incarnation in Jesus of Nazareth as the active stage of divine self sacrifice and divine agony focused on divine suffering in the crucifixion of Jesus of Nazareth as the passive stage of divine self sacrifice

Incarnate Earth Matthew Eaton, 2023-03-10 Incarnate Earth reimagines the doctrine of Incarnation by extending the unity between Creator and creation beyond Jesus to the entire world In dialogue with contemporary theologies of deep incarnation and the philosophy of Emmanuel Levinas the author argues that the face of Christ is encountered in the cruciform demand for justice embodied in the creaturely finitude and vulnerability that grounds ethics

Central to this vision is a recognition that the religious role functions at the heart of Jesus life the revelation of God and the redemption of the world are performed throughout the physical world irreducible to humanity or one heroic representative of the species Thus the human encounters the divine Christ in and as the face of any vulnerable thing animal vegetal elemental or otherwise not as a transcendent being mediated through humanity The radical nature of this reimagination necessitates renewed discussions of ecological and animal ethics calling for compassionate care for all vulnerable bodies insofar as this is possible It will be of interest to scholars of Christian theology and the philosophy of religion particularly those focused on ecotheology religious naturalism and environmental ethics

The Divine Rider in the Art of the Western Roman Empire

Marjorie Mackintosh,1995 The numerous portrayals of gods and humans on horseback which occur in Graeco Roman art may appear to the unaccustomed eye to have many variations but according to Mackintosh are in fact based on a few stock images which could be manipulated to fit the occasion In this thorough study she approaches the questions of how and where the genre first arose in art how it developed as it was adapted by subsequent artists and how in particular imperial Rome made its mark on and through the Divine Rider The author bases her study on close examination of horse and rider statues votives and reliefs from across Europe taking into consideration the dating material and mythological association
