Divine Ecology:

The Divine Ecology Ian Mills,2004 Christ, Creation and the Cosmic Goal of Redemption J.J. Johnson Leese,2018-05-17 J J Johnson Leese discusses how the apostle Paul s writing on Christ s relationship to creation read alongside the interpretations of Irenaeus of Lyon provide a meaningful contribution to contemporary debates on the interrelationship between religion and nature Leese draws upon the integration of three related scholarly trends the increased importance placed on biblical creation themes the emergence of ecotheology and the history of reception while focusing on the Pauline corpus and readings of Paul by Irenaeus thus uncovering a robust creation and ecotheological theology Irenaeus approach provides the possibility for Paul to contribute to ecotheology by way of a theological vision where the whole of reality in relationship to Christ and creation and by extension to soteriology and ecclesiology are central components of Paul s theology Enlightenment with the Divine Ecology Rev. Andrew O. m. s.,2006-04-01 SOLOMON S SEARCH follows the scriptures but reaches into his soul During his forty year reign this great king confronted many life threatening and character defining conflicts When his beloved favorite wife Rebekah ran away he was agonized Why After Rebekah s prophet father Nathan CONDEMNED the King for worshipping Milcom God of fertility for an heir from his beloved Rebekah Solomon BANISHED Nathan from the kingdom And Rebekah felt she had to leave or one of the king s older jealous sons would kill her as yet unborn child When after continuous searching he failed to find Rebekah the king removed her name from all records Turning his energies to building God s Temple crafty Hiram of Tyre plagued the King by tripling the price for all quality material which Hiram only could provide Solomon s heir Rehoboam tried to kill his father three times by treachery at a lion hunt by a serpent in his bed and by poison But God saved him When the King was dieing Rebekah and her grown son returned from the hidden caves In humility Solomon mumbled All is vanity But Rebekah assured him of his great contributions the Temple peace during his reign of forty years and his great integrity Solomon died with real hope for the future of Israel Peculiar Faith Jay Emerson Johnson,2014-03-01 Residing at the intersection of constructive theology and critical social theory this book provides a resource for both students and clergy to reinterpret Christian theology and re imagine Christian faith in the twenty first century The author seeks to encourage and equip Christian faith communities to move beyond the decades long stalemate over human sexuality and gender identity because Queer gifts emerge in Christian communities when lesbian gay bisexual and transgender LGBT people no longer feel compelled to justify their presence in those communities Useful in both seminary classrooms and in congregational settings the book is a contribution to the still emerging field of queer theology translating the rigors of scholarly research into transforming proposals for faith communities Christianity in a Time of Climate Change Kristen Poole,2020-04-17 What does climate change have to do with religion and spirituality Even though a changing environment will have a dire impact on human populations affecting everything from food supply to health to housing the vast majority of Americans do not consider climate change a moral or a religious issue Yet the damage of climate change a phenomenon to which we all contribute through our collective carbon emissions presents an unprecedented ethical problem one that touches a foundational moral principle of Christianity Jesus dictate to love the neighbor This care for the neighbor stretches across time as well as space We are called to care for the neighbors of the future as well as those of the present How can we connect the ethical considerations of climate change the knowledge that our actions directly or indirectly cause harm to others to our individual and collective spiritual practice Christianity in a Time of Climate Change offers a series of reflective essays that consider the Christian ethics of climate change and suggest ways to fold the neighbors of the future into our spiritual lives as an impetus to meaningful personal social and ultimately environmental transformations

Incarnate Earth Matthew Eaton,2023-03-10 Incarnate Earth reimagines the doctrine of Incarnation by extending the unity between Creator and creation beyond Jesus to the entire world In dialogue with contemporary theologies of deep incarnation and the philosophy of Emmanuel Levinas the author argues that the face of Christ is encountered in the cruciform demand for justice embodied in the creaturely finitude and vulnerability that grounds ethics Central to this vision is a recognition that the religious role functions at the heart of Jesus life the revelation of God and the redemption of the world are performed throughout the physical world irreducible to humanity or one heroic representative of the species Thus the human encounters the divine Christ in and as the face of any vulnerable thing animal vegetal elemental or otherwise not as a transcendent being mediated through humanity The radical nature of this reimagination necessitates renewed discussions of ecological and animal ethics calling for compassionate care for all vulnerable bodies insofar as this is possible It will be of interest to scholars of Christian theology and the philosophy of religion particularly those focused on ecotheology religious naturalism and environmental ethics Harvard Divinity School Bulletin Harvard Divinity School,1957 The Harvard Divinity School Bulletin Harvard Divinity School,1957 Religious and Theological Abstracts ,2007 The Divine Ecology Or Nature, God and Human Reason in the Brothers Karamazov Sarah C. Lusk,1953 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2003 Spiritual Ecology Llewellyn Vaughan-Lee,2016-09-01 A call to heal the Earth through spiritual awareness and action This collection of essays explores the spiritual dimensions of the ecological crisis offering a path towards reconnection and sustainability Leading voices from Buddhism Sufism Christianity and Indigenous traditions unite to address our forgetfulness of nature s sacredness They offer insights on climate change species loss and deforestation urging a reassessment of our beliefs about the Earth Discover how to cultivate compassion embrace indigenous wisdom and transform consciousness to create a more balanced world This expanded edition includes new perspectives from younger authors putting spiritual ecology into action It is for anyone seeking a deeper connection with nature and a more meaningful response to the environmental challenges of our time

Nature's Sacrament David C. McDuffie,2021-09-24 In a sacramental ecology divine grace is to be found in the evolutionary emergence of life The Epic of Evolution is the scientific story that reveals that we live in an approximately 14 billion year old universe on a planet that is approximately 4.6 billion years old and that we are a part of the ongoing process of life that has existed on Earth for roughly 4 billion years. Nature's Sacrament focuses on the religious and ecological significance of the evolutionary epic in an effort to seamlessly connect the ecological value attributed as a part of an understanding of the evolutionary connectedness of life on Earth with the Divine grace understood to be present in Christian sacramental worship. David C. McDuffie is a faculty member in the Religious Studies Department at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro where his primary teaching schedule includes courses in World Religions, Religion in America, Christian History, Religion and Environment, and Religion and Politics. Broadly, his research and teaching interests involve the subject area of Religion and Culture which includes but is not limited to the relationships between religion and politics, science, and health care. This is his first book: Recovering natural identity in the Tao's divine ecology R. Dixon Onderdonk, 1980. The Future of the Christian Tradition Robert Joseph Miller, 2007. What is the future of the Christian tradition as it confronts the challenges and opportunities of the global age? That question addressed by authors from around the globe leads in turn to more questions: What elements of a traditional Christian faith can be carried forward in an authentic contemporary faith? The Bible as Sacred Scripture, Life after death, Sin and guilt, Reward and punishment, How do we make an earth-centered vision the heart of a faith for the second axial age? And many more. Contributors include John Shelby Spong, Episcopal Bishop Emeritus of Newark, New Jersey; Robert W. Funk, Founder of the Jesus Seminar; Eugenie Scott, Director of the Center for Science Education; Richard Holloway, Bishop of Edinburgh; Lloyd Geering, Emeritus Professor of Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand; Don Cupitt, former Dean of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, England; Anne Primavesi, Fellow of the Centre for the Interdisciplinary Study of Religion, Birkbeck College, University of London; and Fellows of the Jesus Seminar: Anima, 1980. Women, the Earth, the Divine Eleanor Rae, 1994. Eleanor Rae, co-author of Created in Her Image, weaves together three compelling topics of contemporary concern: women's identity, the environmental crisis, and the feminine divine. Women, the Earth, the Divine presents the case for rediscovering a feminine principle that is not the product of a patriarchal worldview. Rather, Rae derives it from the real experience of women from the East as well as the West. Rae looks at the articulation of a feminine principle from the perspective of ecofeminism and in light of the contribution the religions of the world can make to the ecofeminist project. A Jungian and process theology perception of the complementarity of the sexes becomes the framework for Rae's discussion which invites dialogue between women and men, scientists and religionists. Women, the Earth, the Divine examines Western tendencies that ignore women's voices and experience and disregard women's approaches to every aspect of life including science and economics, psychology and sociology, philosophy and theology. Rae argues that reclaiming the feminine principle provides the key element to the dialogue that must take place among peoples if the real and immediate needs of the world and especially of the environmental crisis are to be addressed. Part I of Women, the Earth, the Divine explores the present situation of women and the basics of ecofeminism Part II relates the basis for an Earth centered ethic cognizant of the link between the oppression of women and the exploitation of nature In Part III Rae s chapter on the Holy Spirit as the feminine divine is a breathtaking tour de force which retrieves basic elements for a re articulation of Christian identity Women the Earth the Divine concludes with surveys of the feminine principle in four major world religions Hinduism Judaism Buddhism and Islam America's Religions Peter W. Williams,1990 In a review in the Journal of Religion the famed Martin Marty characterized Peter Williams as a productive wonder and Americas Religions Traditions and Cultures as a rich resource for readers who would like a state of the art comment on the abundant religious phenomena which surround them Writing in Religion and American Culture Stephen J Stein said the book is not a story of religion in isolation from the rest of American life but a work that has as a major emphasis the theme of Americanization of the symbiotic relationship between religions and cultures Williamss book widely considered the best of its kind is a comprehensive introduction to the religious history of the United States and the traditions out of which it arose from colonial times through the late twentieth century Now including an updated bibliography it presents descriptions of major religious traditions and introduces distinctive American innovations Included are not only Christianity Judaism and Islam but African American Native American and Asian American traditions The peace churches liberal churches and Mormonism also are discussed Christian Jewish Relations ,1987 Dharma World ,1978

Adopting the Track of Term: An Emotional Symphony within Divine Ecology

In a global eaten by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of quick communication, the melodic splendor and psychological symphony developed by the published word often fade in to the backdrop, eclipsed by the persistent sound and interruptions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, located within the pages of Divine Ecology a wonderful literary prize overflowing with raw emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by an elegant musician of language, that captivating masterpiece conducts visitors on a psychological trip, well unraveling the concealed songs and profound impact resonating within each cautiously crafted phrase. Within the depths with this poignant assessment, we can examine the book is key harmonies, analyze their enthralling writing model, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
