Cohen, 2016-04-03 Given the prominence of prayer in traditional Jewish life it is surprising to note how few prayers the Torah actually ordains be recited by the pious as part of their ongoing effort to foster a relationship with the Divine Indeed some of the most famous of all Jewish prayers that do have their origin in Scripture are not presented as liturgical texts in that context at all The Shema for example the confession of faith par excellence which rabbinic tradition ordains be recited twice daily appears in the Bible as part of a larger literary unit with no indication that it is intended to be featured prominently in the prayer lives of the faithful Other prayer texts are presented in situ as features of an ongoing narrative for example the prayer of Damesek Eliezer that he find a wife for his master s son Genesis 24 12 14 or Moses prayer that Miriam be healed of her skin disease Numbers 12 13 have not come to be a part of the fixed Jewish liturgical tradition And still others like the prayer ordained for recitation by farmers presenting their first fruits at the sanctuary Deuteronomy 26 3 10 are presented as liturgical texts to be recited on a specific occasion but with no hint that they may licitly be recited in circumstances other than the ones specifically ordained by Scripture
