Candida Höfer Candida Höfer, Michael Krüger, 2003      Candida Hofer ,      Candida Hofer Candida Höfer, 2013

Candida Höfer Candida Höfer, Galleri K (Oslo, Norway), 2009      Candida Höfer Gunda Luyken, Beat Wismer, 2013

Candida Höfer like Andreas Gursky, Thomas Ruff and Thomas Struth belongs to the first generation that graduated from Bernd and Hilla Becher's photo class at the Arts Academy in Düsseldorf. Following her studies Höfer has kept a respectful distance from the motifs that she finds in her immediate environs or on her countless trips whether these are single objects, architectural spaces or people. The photographs of public spaces almost devoid of people, interiors, libraries, museums or entrance halls are marked by cool objectivity and the precise capturing of details as well as by the transforming systems that organise the architecture. Whereby the use and incidence of light lends the single objects an almost painterly quality, an indeed magical presence. This publication of new and older work from the past four decades is devoted especially to the works that she produced at sites in Düsseldorf since her time at the Arts Academy and especially since 2011.      Candida Höfer Candida Höfer, Doreen Mende, Markus Heinzemann, 2009. For Candida Höfer projects are works in multiple parts that have a planned additional course or which are completed once they reach a definitive state. Projects Done refers to fourteen completed projects from between 1968 and 2008. The fifteenth project is the presentation itself which the artist has developed in collaboration with the architects Kuehn Malvezzi. Candida Höfer presents her work in unfamiliar formats: catalogue raisonné, small format views of the series Zoologische Garten 1993, Die Brücke von Calais 2000 or On Kawara 2006-07 or large format images such as Türken in Deutschland 1979 and the slide project 80 Pictures which is presented on a black background. Flipper is a collage of black and white photographs of pinball machines spread across eight pages. Liverpool an early work from 1968 presents low key, whole page black and white pictures. A further focus is Höfer's pictures of exhibition spaces created by the architects Kuehn Malvezzi. English and German text.      Candida Höfer Candida Höfer, 2009.      Doing Museology Differently Duncan Grewcock, 2013-09-05. One might believe that museum studies is a stable field of academic inquiry based on a set of familiar institutional forms and functions. But as institutions, museums have never been stable or singular and neither has the discipline of museum studies. Museum studies as a field of academic inquiry has received little critical attention. One result of this neglect has arguably been a lack of invention in museum studies; another is the distancing of academic museum studies from museum practice. Doing Museology Differently charts a different course: a critical, creative reflection on academic practice. The book takes the form of a narrative account of museological fieldwork. A research story unfolds, challenging academic conventions at the level of its own presentation. The book combines critical museum visiting with an autobiographical voice. The identification of a previously underexplored interdisciplinary space leads the author to experiment with museum studies using contemporary developments in the theory and practice of human geography. The new approaches to museological research and representation that emerge from this unique inquiry challenge assumed institutional and intellectual boundaries and act as a call to further creative experimentation

The Culture of Migration Sten Pultz Mosland, Ann Ring Petersen, 2015-06-30 Migration has been a phenomenon throughout human history but today as a result of economic hardship conflict and globalization a higher percentage of people than ever before live outside their country of birth Increased international migration has resulted in more movement of information traditions and cultures Migration acts as a catalyst not only for social change but also for the generation of new aesthetic phenomena The Culture of Migration explores the ways in which culture and the arts have been transformed by migration in recent decades and in turn how these cultural and aesthetic transformations have contributed to shaping our identities politics and societies Making an important contribution to the emerging cross disciplinary field of migration studies this book examines contemporary cultural and artistic representations of migration and gathers new perspectives on the subject from across the disciplines of the arts and humanities Renowned and emerging scholars in the field of migration culture and aesthetics among them the distinguished theorists Mieke Bal Nikos Papastergiadis Roger Bromley and Edward Casey address the broader themes and underlying discourses of recent studies in migration and culture

Libraries Umberto Eco, 2019-09-03 This striking book shows the world's most beautiful libraries through Candida Höfer's mesmerizing photographs No one has captured better the majesty stillness and eloquence of libraries Traveling around the world Höfer shows the exquisite beauty to be found in order repetition and form rows of books lines of desks soaring shelves and even stacks of paper create patterns that are both hypnotic and soothing Photographed with a large format camera and a small aperture these razor sharp images of the Pierpont Morgan Library in New York the Escorial in Spain Villa Medici in Rome the Hamburg University library the Bibliotheque Nationale de France in Paris and the Museo Archeologico in Madrid to name a few communicate more than just the superb architecture Glowing with subtle color and natural light Höfer's photographs while devoid of people shimmer with life and remind us again and again that libraries are more than just repositories for books Umberto Eco's essay about his own attachment to libraries is the perfect introduction to an otherwise wordless but sublimely reverent journey
