Black Studies Current Issues Enduring Questionspb2000:

Black Studies Claudine Michel, Jacqueline Bobo, 2001 Critical Black Studies Reader Rochelle Brock, Dara Nix-Stevenson, Paul Chamness Miller, 2017 The Critical Black Studies Reader is a ground breaking volume whose aim is to criticize and envision Black Studies through a critical lens The book not only stretches the boundaries of knowledge and understanding of issues critical to the Black experience it creates a theoretical grounding that is intersectional in its approach Our notion of Black Studies is neither singularly grounded in African American Studies nor on traditional notions of the Black experience Though situated work in this field has historically grappled with the question of where are we in Black Studies this volume offers the reader a type of criticalization that has not occurred to this point While the volume includes seminal works by authors in the field as a critical endeavor the editors have also included pieces that address the political issues that intersect with among others power race class gender sexuality religion place and economics The Black Progress Question Stephen Burman, 1995 The African American experience in the United States has enriched American history in countless ways The overriding theme of that experience however is one of exploitation and discrimination How long will this go on Are African Americans making progress toward complete incorporation into American society The author of this fascinating volume addresses these issues examines others accounts and offers an alternative approach to explaining the African American predicament Stephen Burman s analysis is a sobering one No simple answer is available to the problem at hand Some of the other issues the author addresses are the liberal tradition and black progress race and politics with special emphasis on Atlanta Georgia black nationalism and Marxism and capitalism and how they relate to black progress This volume is a must read for anyone interested in race and ethnic relations Scholars and students involved in sociology political science and urban studies will also appreciate the cogent ideas and lucid analysis contained in The Black Progress Question Stephen Burman has written an insightful judicious and original critique of competing theories used to interpret the contemporary situation of African Americans Choice Stephen Burman asks Are African Americans making progress toward political and economic integration into American society If not why not Chapters cover criteria for black progress the liberal tradition and its failings the neoconservative arguments the influence of Marxism and capitalism black nationalism power and plurism and the continuing tragedy of African Americans in terms of individual community national and global progress Journal of Social Work Education Think about It! Ronald L. Jackson, 2000 Looking for an exciting way to have fun and get to know your partner better Are you having a wine tasting or just a few guests over and want to get the party started Do you enjoy being stimulated while having fun Then pick up a copy of Think About It it s the book you ve been looking for Higher Flight James B. Stewart, 2024-06-27 In Higher Flight pre eminent scholar and activist James B Stewart offers a much needed critical assessment of the current state of Black Africana Studies in order to chart a path forward Each section incorporates various forms of expression including Stewart s essays speeches and poems and the book as a whole covers a

Lemelle, Jr., W E B Du Bois said that the problem of the twentieth century is the problem of the color line It has been one hundred years since Du Bois made that prescient statement which naturally leads to the question What is the problem of the twenty first century In this anthology the authors address a wide range of topics race

gender class sexual orientation globalism migration health politics culture and urban issues from a diversity of disciplinary perspectives Paul Attewell David Lavin Thurston Domina and Tania Levey examine the black middle class at the turn of the millennium Todd C Shaw considers how race shapes patriotism in the wake of the September 11 attacks Robert A Brown focuses on the growing chasm between blacks and whites with regard to views of government's obligation to address citizens basic needs H Alexander Welcome details instances where white scholars have improperly analyzed black experiences Antonio Pastrana revisits Du Bois's theories about the problems facing blacks Joy James shows that the United States possesses the means and wealth to record and preserve or censor its slave penal discourse as part of its vast warehouse of neo slave narratives Ajuan Maria Mance hypothesizes that African American literature will become less consumed with exploration and documentation of interracial differences and more concerned with the relationships within ethnic groups Rosamond S King explores literary embodiments of the increasing prevalence of interracial relationships Anthony J Lemelle and Barbara Scott present a comparative historical policy analysis of the HIV AIDS experience among African Americans Sandra Barnes examines sociological promises and problems of the contemporary black church Juan Battle and Natalie Bennett scrutinize the experiences of African American gays and lesbians in the context of the larger community Verna Keith and Diane Brown assess the state of African American health in the context of social group structures Michael Bennett looks at the problems and opportunities facing black Americans from the perspective of urban studies Juan Battle is professor of sociology at Hunter College and the City University of New York Graduate Center Michael Bennett is professor of English at Long Island University Brooklyn Anthony Lemelle is professor of sociology at the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee and the editor of the Journal of African American Studies published by Transaction

W.E.B. Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty-First Century Reiland Rabaka, 2007-02-03 W E B Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty First Century utilizes Du Bois's thought and texts to develop an informed critical theory of contemporary society This book broadens the base of critical theory making it more multicultural transethnic transgender and non Western European philosophy focused by placing it in dialogue with theory and phenomena that had been heretofore woefully neglected Taking the preeminent black intellectual of the twentieth century as his primary point of departure Reiland Rabaka identifies and analyzes several key contributions that Du Bois and the black racial tradition offer to those interested in redeveloping and racially revising contemporary critical social theory With chapters on critical race theory postcolonial theory feminism and Marxism this volume builds bridges from Africana Studies to disparate discursive communities accessibly demonstrating Du Bois's and the black radical tradition's contributions to and the potential impact on a wide range of new social scientific research and radical political struggles

Dude, Where's My Black Studies Department? Cecil Brown, 2011-06-07 WINNER 2008 PEN Oakland Josephine Miles National Literary Award Blacks have been vanishing from college campuses in the United States and reappearing in prisons videos and movies Cecil Brown tackles this unwitting disappearing act head on paying special attention to the situation at UC Berkeley and the University of California system generally Brown contends that educators have ignored the importance of the oral tradition in African American upbringing an oversight mirrored by the media When these students take exams their abilities are not tested Further university officials administrators professors and students are ignoring the phenomenon of the disappearing black student in both their admissions and hiring policies With black studies departments shifting the focus from African American and black community interests to black immigrant issues says Brown the situation is becoming dire Dude Where s My Black Studies Department offers both a scorching critique and a plan for rethinking and reform of a crucial but largely unacknowledged problem in contemporary society The Black Studies Reader Jacqueline Bobo,Cynthia Hudley,Claudine Michel,2004-05-15 Black studies emerged from the tumultuous social and civil rights movements of the 1960s and empowered African Americans to look at themselves in new ways and pass on a dignified version of Black history However it also enriched traditional disciplines in profound and significant ways Proponents of Black and ethnic studies confronted the false notion that scholarly investigations were objective and unbiased explorations of the range of human knowledge history creativity artistry and scientific discovery As they protested against hegemonic notions like universal psychology and re evaluated canonical texts in literature a new model of academic inquiry evolved one committed to serving a range of populations that critiqued traditional politics culture and social affairs and worked with activist energy for the transformation of the existing social order With an all star cast of contributors The Black Studies Reader takes on the history and future of this multi faceted academic field Topics include Black feminism cultural politics Black activism lesbian and gay issues African American literature and film education and religion This authoritative collection takes a critical look at the current state of Black studies and speculates on where it may go from here Black Studies Nick Aaron Ford,1973-06-01 Black Culture & Experience Venise T. Berry,Ayo Dayo,Anita Rife,2015 Black Culture and Experience Contemporary Issues offers a holistic look at Black culture in the twenty first century This anthology contains work from leading scholars authors and other specialists who have been brought together to highlight key issues in black culture and experience today African American Studies Jeanette Davidson,2010-10-19 This book presents the diverse expansive nature of African American Studies and its characteristic interdisciplinarity It is intended for use with undergraduate beginning graduate students in African American Studies American Studies and Ethnic Studies Section I focuses on the historical development of the field and the diverse theoretical perspectives utilized in African American Studies Section II examines African American Studies commitment to community service and social activism and includes exclusive interviews with acclaimed actor activist Danny Glover and renowned scholar Manning Marable Section III presents international perspectives Section IV includes selected areas of scholarship Oral History as an important research methodology African American Philosophy African Aesthetics song and dance perspectives on Womanism Black Feminism and Africana Womanism with a focus on literature and African American Religion The book concludes with African American

Challenging the Legacies of Racial Resentment Tiffany Willoughby-Herard,2017-07-05 Domestic and international health activism and health policy are focal points in this volume a publication of the National Conference of Black Political Scientists This work demonstrates the continuing importance of the medical civil rights movement through examples of activism of women of colour in AIDS service organizations of their health issues and of the struggle for racial equity in health care in Brazil Spikes in police and vigilante violence as well as fear of a reversion to resegregated schools have brought a new urgency to black political activism The contributors explore the effect of race on American attitudes toward immigration policy and reform black state legislators and American morality politics the historically disproportionate influence of Southern whites in American politics and the undermining of school desegregation laws with nullification strategies The volume s Trends section features conversations on the BlackLivesMatter movement in Los Angeles the 2016 presidential election and examines the teaching of the Trayvon Martin story at the University of California Irvine The volume also includes a diverse selection of book reviews Black in America ,2018-06-14 Black in America samples the breadth of non fiction writing on African American experiences in the United States The emphasis is on twenty first century authors such as Ta Nehisi Coates Claudia Rankine and Roxane Gay but a substantial representation of vitally important writing from other eras is also included from Olaudah Equiano and Sojourner Truth to James Baldwin Audre Lorde and Alice Walker in all there are over 50 selections Selections are arranged by author in rough chronological order the book also includes alternative tables of contents listing material by thematic subject and by genre and rhetorical style A headnote explanatory notes and discussion questions facilitate student engagement with each piece A percentage of the revenue from this book s sales will be donated to three organizations Black Lives Matter Equal Justice Initiative and Color of Change Leading Issues in African-American Studies Nikongo Ba-Nikongo,1997 African American Studies remains one of the more controversial disciplines in the courses of academic pursuit today In part much of the controversy emanates from an inability of practitioners to agree upon any rigid definition of just what constitutes and just what is encompassed within the field At least there is some agreement that its achievement of institutional acceptance with separate programs departments and granting of advanced degrees warrants its treatment as a legitimate field of pursuit in and of itself but indeed this is where the agreement ends On a range of topics scholars in the field of African American Studies hold decidedly different opinions What ought we to include as African American Studies Is Afrocentricity a figment of the imagination or sound scientific enquiry And what place if any does race and racism continue to play in the life changes of African Americans Bi racialism underclassness intra community crime and Afro Jewish relations are also prominent subjects of consideration In Leading Issues in African American Studies BaNikongo has brought together scholars from every associated field of African American Studies and offers a range of perspective on a myriad of topics The text presents differing viewpoints on political social economic cultural and legal issues and succeeds in addressing every major contemporary area of debate in African American academic circles

Africana Studies James L. Conyers, 1997 Known variously as African studies black studies African American studies Afro American studies and Africology the academic study of the African diaspora as a holistic discipline is a relatively new phenomenon University programs have been created with reference to a disciplinary matrix retarding the development of appropriate theory and methods throughout Africana studies Fifteen leaders in the field of Africana studies provide the conceptual framework for establishing the field as a mature discipline The focus is on four basic areas administration and organizational structure disciplinary matrix Africana womanism and cultural aesthetics The work examines both the theory and the method of scholars in African and African diaspora studies
