Bleak Midwinter 1947:

The Bleak Midwinter, 1947 Alex J. Robertson, 1987 Austerity Britain, 1945-1951 David Kynaston, 2010-12-01 A majestic people's history of England in the years immediately following the end of World War II one of the most talked about books in England this year Clement Attlee Jerry Hardman Brookshire, 1995 Shows how Attlee middle class and Oxford educated became a committed socialist while a young social worker in London's East End and his rise as Deputy Minister during Churchill's wartime coalition and Prime Minister during Labour's creation of the welfare state from 1945-1951

Agriculture in Capitalist Europe, 1945-1960 Carin Martiin, Juan Pan-Montojo, Paul Brassley, 2016-06-17 In the years before the Second World War agriculture in most European states was carried out on peasant or small family farms using technologies that relied mainly on organic inputs and local knowledge and skills supplying products into a market that was partly local or national partly international The war applied a profound shock to this system In some countries farms became battlefields causing the extensive destruction of buildings crops and livestock In others farmers had to respond to calls from the state for increased production to cope with the effects of wartime disruption of international trade By the end of the war food was rationed when it was obtainable at all Only fifteen years later the erstwhile enemies were planning ways of bringing about a single agricultural market across much of continental western Europe as farmers mechanised motorized shed labour invested capital and adopted new technologies to increase output This volume brings together scholars working on this period of dramatic technical commercial and political change in agriculture from the end of the Second World War to the emergence of the Common Agricultural Policy in the early 1960s Their work is structured around four themes the changes in the international political order within which agriculture operated the emergence of a range of different market regulation schemes that preceded the CAP changes in technology and the extent to which they were promoted by state policy and the impact of these political and technical changes on rural societies in western Europe Women, Social Leadership, and the Second World War James Hinton, 2002-11-21 By mobilizing a million housewives the upper and middle class leaders of Women's Voluntary Service made a vital contribution to Britain's war effort At the same time they sought to sustain their own authority as social leaders James Hinton's original and evocative study reconstructs an intimate portrait of a women's public world neglected by historians It challenges accepted accounts of the democratizing impact of the Second World War Among women the war reinforced not democracy but the continuities of class The Listener, 1987 International Labour and the Origins of the Cold War Denis MacShane, 1992 This is the first major study of trade unions in the launch of the Cold War in the 1940s Using unpublished archival material from Europe and the United States MacShane challenges existing interpretations of international labor's role in the Cold War He argues that European traditions and political differences were more important than American interventions in determining labor's attitudes to international problems after the Second World War British Monetary Policy, 1945-51 Susan Howson, 1993 The first majority Labour government in Britain was pledged to maintain full employment reform the financial system and nationalize major industries It faced a massive balance of payments problem and a persistent threat of inflation Using records of the Labour Party the Treasury the Bank of England and other participants in the discussions of the time this study explains the reasons for Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton s pursuit of cheaper money in 1945 7 and for the continuation of cheap money until the advent of a Conservative government in 1951 It also examines the consequences of Labour s monetary policies in terms of modern economic theory as well as considering why Labour s financial reform was so limited

Northern Scotland ,1993 The Attlee Governments, 1945-1951 Kevin Jefferys,1992 In 1945 the Labour Government set about a major transformation of British society Dr Jefferys s analyses the main changes and relates them to debates within the Labour party on the nature of its aims and how best to achieve them

Design and Cultural Politics in Post-war Britain Patrick Joseph Maguire,Jonathan M. Woodham,1997 A collection of essays documents and commentaries informs on the tension between the state funded Council of industrial design and the vast body of British manufacturing industry located in the industrial regions Other themes the persuasion of the general public that good modern design had a key role in everyday life and the manifestation of a particular set of social and cultural values in the selection of exhibits and the means of design propaganda

The Imprint of Time Michael Edwin John Wadsworth,1991 A study of 5000 British men and women from their birth in 1946 to their middle adulthood in 1989 It shows how their circumstances and experiences as children and adolescents during this period of great change in education and health care were reflected in their adult health and life style

History ,1988 The People's Peace Kenneth O. Morgan,1990 BL By a leading historian of the periodBL Draws on sources recently released under the Thirty Year Rule The People s Peace is the first comprehensive study by a professional historian of British history from 1945 to the present day It examines the transformation of post war Britain from the planning enthusiasm of 1945 to the ethic of Thatcherism Its themes include the troubles of the British economy public criticism of the legitimacy of the state and its instruments of authority the co existence of growing personal prosperity with widespread social inequality and the debates aroused by the process of decolonization and by Britain s relationship to the Commonwealth the transatlantic world and Europe Changes in cultural life from the puritanical austerity of the 1940s through the permissiveness of the 1960s to the tensions of recent years are also charted Kenneth Morgan examines the paradoxes of life in the modern United Kingdom the growing affluence and internal peace of mainland Britain with its underside of disillusion and discontent Using a wide variety of sources including the records of political parties and documents recently released under the Thirty Years Rule Kenneth Morgan brings the story right up to date and draws comparisons with the post war history of other nations This penetrating assessment by a leading historian of twentieth century Britain will prove invaluable to anyone interested in the development of modern Britain

From the Bomb to the Beatles Juliet Gardiner,1999 Traces the cultural and social developments in Britain in the twenty years following the Second World War from the restricted culture of 1945 to the dawn of heady
