Bystanders Scrapbook:

Leaves from My Chinese Scrapbook Frederic Henry Balfour, 1887 An eminent writer of the present century has hazarded the conjecture that in the unwritten history of the globe might be found the names of many great and distinguished men of whom the world knows nothing that in bygone ages and in distant lands there have been Ciceros and Caesars Hannibals and Homers may we suggest in all seriousness Beaconfields and Bismarcks whose fame has never reached the shores of Europe and whose memories have perished with their lives Strange to say we have heard this striking notion characterised as shallow The criticism seems ungracious profound it may not be but there can be no question of its truth nor of the fact that it is very little realised or thought of Pg 1 A Miscellaneous Selection from the Scrapbook of the Compiler Sir Edward DENNY, 1874 The Scrap Book, 1907 The Ladies' Scrap-book ..., 1845 A collection of tales and legends including many by women writers Scrap-book Recitation Series Goodwal Dickerman, Henry Marlin Soper, 1893 A Scrap Book George Saintsbury, 1922 Record of the Year, a Reference Scrap Book Frank Moore, 1876 Li Hung Chang's Scrap-book Hongzhang Li, 1913 The Bystander, 1907 The American Scrap Book and Magazine of United States Literature, 1862 The Scrap-book William Fields, 1884 Buxton Dorothy Schwieder, Joseph Hrabá, Elmer Schwieder, 2003-10 From 1900 until the early 1920s an unusual community existed in America's heartland Buxton Iowa Originally established by the Consolidation Coal Company Buxton was the largest unincorporated coal mining community in Iowa What made Buxton unique however is the fact that the majority of its 5 000 residents were African Americans a highly unusual racial composition for a state which was over 90 percent white At a time when both southern and northern blacks were disadvantaged and oppressed blacks in Buxton enjoyed true racial integration steady employment above average wages decent housing and minimal discrimination For such reasons Buxton was commonly known as the black man's utopia in Iowa Containing documentary evidence including newspapers census records photographs and state mining reports along with interviews of 75 former residents Buxton Work and Racial Equality in a Coal Mining Community originally published in 1987 and winner of the 1988 Benjamin Shambaugh Award explored the Buxton experience from a variety of perspectives The authors an American historian a family sociologist and a race relations sociologist provided a truly interdisciplinary history of one Iowa's most unique communities Now eighty years after the town's demise and fifteen years after Buxton's original publication the history of this Iowa town remains a compelling story that continues to capture people's imaginations In Buxton A Black Utopia in the Heartland the authors offer further reflections upon their original study and the many former Buxton residents who shared their memories In the new essay A Buxton Perspective issues such as social class and the town's continuing legacy are addressed The voices captured in Buxton although recorded over twenty years ago still resonate with exuberance affection and poignancy this expanded edition will bring their amazing stories back to the forefront of Iowa and American history Li Hung Chang's Scrap-book Hiram Stevens Maxim, 1913 Miscellaneous Scrap Book

Macdonald,2021-11-15 Bessie Scott nearing the end of her first year at university in the spring of 1890 recorded in her diary Wore my gown for first time It didn t seem at all strange to do so Often deemed a cumbersome tradition by men the cap and gown were dearly prized by women as an outward sign of their hard won admission to the rank of undergraduates For the first generations of university women higher education was an exhilarating and transformative experience but these opportunities would narrow in the decades that followed In University Women Sara MacDonald explores the processes of integration and separation that marked women s contested entrance into higher education Examining the period between 1870 and 1930 this book is the first to provide a comparative study of women at universities across Canada MacDonald concludes that women s higher education cannot be seen as a progressive narrative a triumphant story of trailblazers and firsts of doors being thrown open and staying open The early promise of equal education was not fulfilled in the longer term as a backlash against the growing presence of women on campuses resulted in separate academic programs closer moral regulation and barriers that restricted their admission into the burgeoning fields of science technology engineering and mathematics The modernization of higher education ultimately marginalized women students researchers and faculty within the diversified universities of the twentieth century University Women uncovers the systemic inequalities based on gender race and class that have shaped Canadian higher education It is indispensable reading for those concerned with the underrepresentation of girls and women in STEM and current initiatives to address issues of access and equity within our academic institutions
