Cafe Karnak:

Karnak Café Naguib Mahfouz, 2008-12-02 In this gripping and suspenseful novella from the Egyptian Nobel Prize winner three young friends survive interrogation by the secret police only to find their lives poisoned by suspicion fear and betrayal At a Cairo caf in the 1960s a legendary former belly dancer lovingly presides over a boisterous family of regulars including a group of idealistic university students One day amid reports of a wave of arrests three of the students disappear the excitable Hilmi his friend Ismail and Ismail s beautiful girlfriend Zaynab When they return months later they are apparently unharmed and yet subtly and profoundly changed It is only years later after their lives have been further shattered that the narrator pieces together the young people s horrific stories and learns how the government used them against one another In a riveting final chapter their torturer himself enters the Caf and sits among his former victims claiming a right to join their society of the disillusioned Now translated into English for the first time Naguib Mahfouz s tale of the insidious effects of government sanctioned torture and the suspension of rights and freedoms in a time of crisis is shockingly contemporary

Karnak Cafe Naguib Mahfouz, 2011 The Egyptian Coffeehouse Dalia Mostafa, Amina Elbendary, 2020-11-26 The coffeehouse is a microcosm of the larger Egyptian society with its history of multiculturalism and great diversity It is not only a social space which was created and shaped by the people over decades in their streets neighbourhoods and cities but it also occupies a sphere in the popular imagination full of stories memories and social networks Despite the coffeehouse s cultural centrality and socio political importance in Egypt academic research and publications on its significance remain sparse This volume aims to fill this gap by presenting for the first time in English a full study analysing the importance of the coffeehouse as an urban phenomenon with its cultural historical economic and political significance in contemporary Egyptian society The volume shows how historically the coffeehouse has always played a key role as a commercial enterprise and culturally as a place for rich literary and artistic production which has multi layered representations in Egyptian novels cinema and popular music amongst other genres Economically the coffeehouse has been vital for accessing job opportunities especially for informal workers in addition to having played a crucial role in political mobilisation during decisive historical events as well as in recent years during the 2011 revolution and its aftermath Through extended interviews with six residents in Cairo the authors further examine the role and influence of the coffeehouse as a significant feature of contemporary Egyptian life and urban landscape

Naguib Mahfouz Rasheed El-Enany, 2003-09-02 First Published in 2004 Naguib Mahfouz is one of the most important Arabic fiction writers of this century Born in 1911 his long and prolific writing career represents the evolution of a novel genre in Arabic literature His books are a record of the tragic tensions attendant on a nation s quest for freedom and modernity In 1988 he won the Nobel Prize for Literature This book provides a comprehensive study of Mahfouz s achievement Rasheed El Enany presents a systemic evaluation of the author s life and environment local and foreign influences on him elements of his thought and technique and the evolution of his craft While each work is discussed individually emphasis is laid throughout on elements of continuity in his work whether thematic or aesthetic In particular Dr El Enany challenges the traditional classification of Mahfouz s work into four chronological phases historical realist modernist and indigenous or traditional It is demonstrated that elements of these forms recur throughout Mahfouz s varied and experimental writings This book is the story of Mahfouz s struggle to free his novels from the prevalent predominantly Western moulds and to express his own socio political thought Committed to Disillusion David Fred DiMeo,2016 Arabic literature Egypt 20th century history and criticism Committed to Disillusion David DiMeo,2016-08-12 Can a writer help to bring about a more just society This question was at the heart of the movement of al adab al multazim or committed literature which claimed to dominate Arab writing in the mid twentieth century By the 1960s however leading Egyptian writers had retreated into disillusionment producing agonized works that challenged the key assumptions of socially engaged writing Rather than a rejection of the idea however these works offered reinterpretation of committed writing that helped set the stage for activist writers of the present David DiMeo focuses on the work of three leading writers whose socially committed fiction was adapted to the disenchantment and discontent of the late twentieth century Naguib Mahfouz Yusuf Idris and Sonallah Ibrahim Despite their disappointments with the direction of Egyptian society in the decades following the 1952 revolution they kept the spirit of committed literature alive through a deeply introspective examination of the relationship between the writer the public and political power Reaching back to the roots of this literary movement DiMeo examines the development of committed literature from its European antecedents to its peak of influence in the 1950s and contrasts the committed works with those of disillusionment that followed Committed to Disillusion is vital reading for scholars and students of Arabic literature and the modern history and politics of the Middle East The Oxford Handbook of Modern Egyptian History Beth Baron,Jeffrey Culang,2024 Until relatively recently scholars of Egyptian history understood the modern period to begin with the movement of European people and ideas to Egypt s northern shores precipitated by Napoleon s invasion in 1798 From this perspective modern Egyptian history was animated by the diverse and sometimes contradictory ways in which Egyptians responded over time to colonial power and modern forms of knowledge This handbook featuring 26 originally commissioned essays by top scholars in the field adds to a growing literature that complicates the facile colonizer colonized and modern tradition binaries undergirding this view Modern Egyptian history is a continuous process of translation and adaptation invention and reinvention Bringing together a dynamic and accomplished group of historians of Egypt the book maps the present state of modern Egyptian history highlighting the most promising avenues of research and laying new ground upon which future generations of scholars may build The contributors address both long persisting themes in the field though in new ways as well as new themes reshaping how we understand modern Egyptian history and thus Middle Eastern and global history These include environment family infrastructure intellectuals labor law literature medicine politics popular culture and slavery Within these categories they explore issues of gender race and class

The questions these scholars consider reflect pressing contemporary concerns and debates including medical sovereignty and bodily autonomy the management of the environment the rights and movements of workers courts and legal struggles cultural expression production and reception and the relationship between the army state and society
