strength of paintings by Joan Miro have made him an immensely popular modern painter but the artist would have been extremely disappointed to see his work treated as little more than interior decor In this accessible survey of the artist's life and career Iria Candela explains the complex roots and darker shades that lie behind the evolution of Miro's work from the culture of his Catalan homeland to his exposure as a young man to the latest experiments of the avant garde in Paris and the rise of Fascism in Spain She examines not only Miro's paintings but also his sculpture prints and murals quoting from many of the artist's own revealing statements For anyone wanting to explore the legacy left by the artist who declared that he wanted to assassinate painting this concise introduction is the perfect guide Calder and Miró, 1998 Alienation of Affection Hugh DeArmond Kirkpatrick, 2010 This psychological mystery goes to the heart of alienation When seasoned forensic psychologist Dr Calder Miro agreed to help his friend homicide detective Kenilworth Brown investigate the apparent murder of another psychologist he didn't expect to find himself confronting a past high conflict divorce case It was a case that still troubled him one in which the murder victim had been on the opposing side Alienation of Affection takes Calder a white male and Worth a black male both raised in the South through an examination of their friendship as they probe into a maelstrom of madness and murder The body of child psychologist Mildred Hughes is found floating in the waters of Ocracoke island just off the North Carolina coast While investigating multiple suspects Calder and Worth are confronted with another brutal murder committed with grisly sophistication in New Bern North Carolina This novel is a complex tale of Southern family dysfunction and the unintentional destruction of two children's psyches The story examines the ripple effect of anger driven family law litigation denial of a father's presence in his children's lives for a decade the vengeance agenda of a disordered Bible pounding mother and the paths of disturbed adolescence Alexander Calder, Joan Miro, 1961 Miró, Calder Sankei Shimbun, Joan Miró, Alexander Calder, Fuji Terebi Gyarari, 1972 Modernism and the Mediterranean Jan K. Birksted, 2017-07-05 Situated in a Mediterranean landscape the Maeght Foundation is a unique Modernist museum product of an extraordinary collaboration between the architect Jos uis Sert and the artists whose work was to be displayed there The architecture garden design and art offer a rare opportunity to see work in settings conceived in active collaboration with the artists themselves By focusing on the relationship between this art foundation and its Arcadian setting including Joan Miro labyrinth George Braque's pool Tal Coat's mosaic wall and Giacometti's terrace Jan K Birksted demonstrates how the building articulates many of the ideas that preoccupied this group of artists during the culminating years of their lives The study pays special attention to the ways in which architecture can shape the experience of time and addresses the Modernist desire for wilderness and its problematic roots in the classical Mediterranean ideal In showing how the design of the Maeght Foundation is a Modernist representation of Mediterranean culture the author has developed an interpretation of architecture that accommodates not only the architect's handling of material or function but shows as well how it can be the embodiment of a particular vision of space and time Alexander Calder, 1961 Calder & Miro.
