Jules Janick

Cantarella Vol 2:

Cantarella You Higuri, Yū Higuri, 2006-01-25 From birth Cesare Borgia is surrounded by shadows Damned by his own father hated by his closest brother separated from the sister who loves him and driven by the demons of Hell itself his quest for power threatens to set the world of Renaissance Italy ablaze unless one innocent person can drive away the poisonous shadows ravaging him P 4 of cover Cantarella, Volume 5 You Higuri, Audry Taylor, 2006-11-22 Brothers Cesare and Juan fight over a woman and Cesare's friend Chiaro is torn between being a loyal companion and his fear of Cesare's cruelty

Stoning as Punishment in Early Islam Syed Atif Rizwan, 2026-03-02 Stoning as Punishment in Early Islam explores some of the contingencies that contributed to the process by which death by lapidation rajm stoning became a standard punishment for illicit sexual intercourse zina for certain schools in the Islamic legal tradition Syed Atif Rizwan explores stoning through a critical examination of the transmission history and textual content of key hadith as well as a review of procedural and substantive laws relating to zina Rizwan offers analysis of key historical texts and legal rulebooks to provide insights into the development of dogma that later became orthodox In addition to providing an overview of the development of Islamic law and jurisprudence for the stoning punishment this book offers new insights into the development of Islamic criminal law and the role of historical context in the shaping of legal rulings The Origins and Role of Same-Sex Relations in Human Societies James Neill, 2011-10-17 This groundbreaking work draws on a vast range of research into human sexuality to demonstrate that homosexuality is not a phenomenon limited to a small minority of society but is an aspect of a complex sexual harmony that the human race inherited from its animal ancestors Through a survey of the patterns of sexual expression found among animals and among societies around the world and an examination of the functional role homosexual behavior has played among animal species and human societies alike the author arrives at some provocative conclusions that a homosexual or bisexual phase is a normal part of sexual development that same sex relations play an important balancing role in regulating human reproduction that many societies have institutionalized homosexual traditions in the past and that the harsh condemnation of homosexuality in Western society is a relatively recent phenomenon unique among world societies throughout history This well researched and meticulously documented book is the first that integrates into a coherent picture the startling revelations about human sexuality coming from the recent work of sexual researchers psychologists anthropologists and historians The view that emerges of an ambisexual human species whose complex sexual harmony is being thwarted by the imposition of an artificial understanding of nature represents a new way of thinking about sex

Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports, 1970 Modeling and Optimization of Air Traffic Daniel Delahaye, Stéphane Puechmorel, 2013-07-01 This book combines the research activities of the authors both of whom are researchers at Ecole Nationale de l'Aviation Civile French National School of Civil Aviation and presents their findings from the last 15 years Their work uses air transport as its focal point within the realm of mathematical optimization looking at real life problems and theoretical models in tandem and the challenges that accompany studying both approaches The authors research is linked with the attempt to reduce air space congestion in Western Europe USA and increasingly Asia They do this through studying stochastic optimization particularly artificial evolution the sectorization of airspace route distribution and takeoff slots and by modeling airspace congestion Finally the authors discuss their short medium and long term research goals They hope that their work although related to air transport will be applied to other fields such is the transferable nature of mathematical optimization At the same time they intend to use other areas of research such as approximation and statistics to complement their continued inquiry in their own field Contents 1 Introduction Part 1 Optimization and Artificial Evolution 2 Optimization State of the Art 3 Genetic Algorithms and Improvements 4 A new concept for Genetic Algorithms based on Order Statistics Part 2 Applications to Air Traffic Control 5 Air Traffic Control 6 Contributions to Airspace Sectorization 7 Contribution to Traffic Assignment 8 Airspace Congestion Metrics 9 Conclusion and Future Perspectives About the Authors Daniel Delahaye works for Ecole Nationale de l Aviation Civile French National School of Civil Aviation in France St phane Puechmorel works for Ecole Nationale de l Aviation Civile French National School of Civil Aviation in France CANTARELLA You Higuri,2006 THE CONTINUING SAGA OF THE BORGIA FAMILY IN THE 1400s The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1975 British Library (London),Jim Emmett,1979 Literary Writings in America ,1977 Combined Traffic Signal Control and Traffic Assignment Chungwon Lee,Randy B. Department of Printed Books,1965 Dynamic Decision and Adjustment Processes in Commuter Behavior Under Real-time Information Karthik K. Srinivasan,Hani S. Mahmassani,2002 Advanced Traveler Information Systems ATIS by providing real time traffic information can assist trip makers in selecting efficient travel choices and aid the attainment of desirable system goals including reduced costs and increased efficiencies The success of ATIS in achieving such goals critically depends on user behavior in response to information This research focuses on investigating dynamic aspects in commuter behavior under real time information A dynamic interactive travel behavior simulator that enables a consistent representation of the nonlinear time dependent interactions between network performance trip makers choices and information is used to observe trip maker behavior Using the simulator interactive experiments are conducted where a range of experimental factors including network loading day to day traffic evolution and ATIS information strategies are varied and the consequent trip maker behavior is observed Constituent models are proposed to analyze the choice dimensions of route departure time and compliance The dynamic kernal logit DKL formulation is presented for analyzing these data and its theoretical and computational suitability established The results confirm the significance of compliance and inertia as key mechanisms influencing route choice Departure time adjustments appear to be based on a sequential heuristic search Calibrated models also provide evidence of learning adjustment perception judgment and updating processes in trip maker behavior Empirical results indicate that real time information and time dependent network conditions are strong determinants of trip maker behavior in a commuting context The nature and quality of ATIS information accuracy and reliability the magnitude of network loading and its day to day evolution and users past traffic experience are important influences on how commuters select routes and departure times At the unobserved level general dynamic and stochastic patterns including heterogeneity state dependence habit persistence and correlations are present in trip makers decisions These substantive results have important implications for network state prediction travel demand forecasting design and evaluation of ATIS services and deployment of Intelligent Transportation System ITS programs User behavior models developed here can be integrated with dynamic network traffic assignment models to obtain more accurate system performance modeling capabilities with considerable applications in tactical and strategic system planning and traffic operations
