Grassroots Development ,1999 Capacity Building for Sustainable Development United Nations Environment Programme,2002 This report details the broad scope of United Nations Environment Programme activities with regards to capacity building in support of the goals of sound environmental management and sustainable development Aspects considered include legal and institutional development sustainable management of natural resources integrating economic development and environmental protection environmental assessment monitoring and reporting promoting public awareness and participation in environmental management Capacity Building for Environmental Law in the Asian and Pacific Region Donna G. Craig, Nicholas A. Robinson, Kheng Lian Koh, 2003 National sectoral and international approaches to environmental law education are integrated in this comprehensive resource on environmental law in Asian and Pacific countries A broader definition of sustainable development that incorporates social cultural and economic dimensions facilitates consideration of social justice and equity in environmental law The jurisprudence of environmental law is outlined with attention to impact assessment implementation and dispute resolution in this first volume Journal of African Policy Studies, 2005 The International Experts' Meeting on Sustainability Assessments of Trade Liberalisation, 2000 Economic Globalization in Asia Manas Chatterji, Partha Gangopadhyay, 2005 This timely volume examines various economic managerial social and political aspects of globalization and its impact on local economies State of the art analytical models and original empirical research is used to understand four key and interrelated facets of globalization To understand the prospects and the problems of international business and MNCs in the global economy To analyze globalization as a process of change To understand the new roles of nation states in light of the above To articulate the uneasy idea that globalization has resulted in serious imbalances in the global economy The collection hosts a list of internationally eminent scholars who explain the implications of globalization for progress crises and conflicts in South and Southeast Asia Effective Environmental Management in Developing Countries Shunji Matsuoka, 2007-10-11 This book investigates how environmental qualities can be managed through social capacity development in developing countries To this end the book proposes a concept of social capacity assessment SCA and presents empirical tools for the SCA which can be used for the analysis in developing countries This book also presents applications of the SCA for other problems under scrutiny in developing countries including poverty reduction infrastructure management and protection of endangered species Management Challenges for Africa in the Twenty-First Century Felix Moses Edoho, 2001 Edoho and his contributors examine the management challenges facing African governments and businesses on the eve of a new millennium As the authors make clear Africa's future is defined by how Africa does in the 21st century For Africa a major challenge is how to effectively and efficiently manage its vast wealth Africa is not poor because it is poor it is poor because it cannot manage its development process The shortages of managerial knowledge skills and talents are pervasive Consequently the region lacks the ability to organize production and run operations effectively and efficiently The task of developing managerial manpower in Africa is not only imperative it is urgent After outlining theoretical and applied perspectives on management the volume examines the public and private sector planning and management It then explores the globalization of management technology provides case studies of African management dilemmas looks at management ethics and morality and concludes with an analysis of the role of management in African national development As the authors make clear abundant resources will not of themselves usher in an African economic renaissance Africa needs skills to identify and analyze its resources to undertake investment and to establish and run all kinds of organizations Until Africa develops its indigenous managerial talents development will continue to be elusive and the process traumatizing An important resource for scholars students and policy makers involved with African economic development
