

A Fictional Diary of a Sailor on a VOC Ship

10 February 1602

We have been at sea for three months now, and I must say, the life of a sailor is not for the faint of heart. The conditions on board are cramped and dirty, and the work is hard and monotonous. We spend our days hauling sails, steering the ship, or fixing things on the ship that have broken in the rough sea. The weather has been harsh, with storms battering us regularly. I am thankful I have not fallen ill, but many of my shipmates have not been so lucky. Scurvy and other illnesses are all too common on board. Hopefully, we will reach the East Indies soon to get some fresh food.

We are on our way to the East Indies, and the journey is taking longer than expected. Life at sea is beginning to take its toll on me, and I find myself longing for the comfort of home. I miss my wife and children and wonder if I will ever see them again.

Despite the difficulties, I am grateful for the opportunity to earn a wage and provide for my family. I am also proud to be serving the VOC and helping to expand Dutch trade and commerce. I hope that we will reach our destination soon and that our voyage will be successful.

Until then, I will continue to do my best and weather the storms.

11 February 1602

Today, we encountered a French private ship, and we fought a fierce and bloody battle.
