Another Modernity A Different Rationality:

Another Modernity Scott Lash, 1999-08-25 This book is Lash's most comprehensive statement in social and cultural theory. It is a book addressed to sociologists and philosophers, to students of urban life, modern languages, cultural studies, and the visual arts. Alongside the Enlightenment has emerged another modernity. This second modernity has in opposition to the Enlightenment rationality of progress, order, homogeneity, and cognition initiated a different rationality of uncertainty, transience, experiment, and the unknowable. This second, this other modernity is present in notions of difference and reflexivity so central to the contemporary world view. The logic, however, of such notions can itself lead to the same unhappy abstraction of the first modernity. What is forgotten, Scott Lash argues, is the dimension of the ground. This book consists of explorations into this ground as place, community, belonging, sociality, tradition, life, world, as symbol, sensation, in the tactile character of the sign. The book addresses the other modernity's forgotten ground. The first and second modernities co-existed in a state of irresolvable tension along the history of western industrial capitalism. This is thrown into crisis, Lash argues, with the turn of the twenty-first century, emergence of the global information culture. What are the implications of this explosion of first and second modernities into today's technological culture? When the previously existing third space of difference is exploded into the general indifference of information and communication flows? How might we lead our lives in an age in which difference and indeed the ground itself become primarily a matter for memory, for mourning?

TransUrbanism Joke Brouwer, Arjen Mulder, 2002 TransUrbanism is urbanism plus transformation. TransUrbanism is urbanism plus globalization. The city is no longer a clearly localizable spatial unit but has transformed into an urban field, a collection of activities instead of a material structure. Cities today are in a state of continuous decomposition but are also continually reorganizing and rearranging themselves, expanding and shrinking. TransUrbanism is a design strategy that allows cities to organize themselves as complex systems where small local structures incorporate global flows.

The Future of Social Theory Nicholas Gane, 2004-03-02 The basic concept of society has come under attack. Political acts, critical theory, new media, and even history itself have undermined what we think of as the social. The Future of Social Theory brings together new interviews with the world's leading social theorists on what society means today. Zygmunt Bauman, John Urry, Saskia Sassen, Bruno Latour, Scott Lash, Nikolas Rose, Judith Butler, and Françoise Vergès. The topics covered include liquid modernization and the individualization of the society, the shift towards global forms of chaos and complexity, the displacement of the social into global city networks, the shift away from a theory of the social to a theory of space, the transformation of society with the rise of new technology, the continuing influence of historical forms of political power, society as a gendered idea, and society as a product of Empire.
