Reconceptualizing Early Mathematics Learning Lyn D. English, Joanne T. Mulligan, 2013-05-09 This book emanated primarily from concerns that the mathematical capabilities of young children continue to receive inadequate attention in both the research and instructional arenas Research over many years has revealed that young children have sophisticated mathematical minds and a natural eagerness to engage in a range of mathematical activities As the chapters in this book attest current research is showing that young children are developing complex mathematical knowledge and abstract reasoning a good deal earlier than previously thought A range of studies in prior to school and early school settings indicate that young learners do possess cognitive capacities which with appropriately designed and implemented learning experiences can enable forms of reasoning not typically seen in the early years Although there is a large and coherent body of research on individual content domains such as counting and arithmetic there have been remarkably few studies that have attempted to describe characteristics of structural development in young students mathematics Collectively the chapters highlight the importance of providing more exciting relevant and challenging 21st century mathematics learning for our young students The chapters provide a broad scope in their topics and approaches to advancing young children's mathematical learning They incorporate studies that highlight the importance of pattern and structure across the curriculum studies that target particular content such as statistics early algebra and beginning number and studies that consider how technology and other tools can facilitate early mathematical development Reconceptualising the professional learning of teachers in promoting young children's mathematics including a consideration of the role of play is also addressed

Google's page and domain ranking factors For those that don't quite understand ranking factors let me explain Each page and domain has a ranking value These are typically called Page and Domain Authority The higher the authority the higher the page will rank Google and other search engines determine a page's rank or authority based on various search metrics including content keywords number of backlinks age of the website title header tags images and so on For any given localized search the results are usually broken out by Paid Advertising Shown at the top and bottom of the listings Local Business listings Business listings from Google Maps Organic Search Results Everything else In this book Local SEO A Roadmap To Successful Local Ranking I am focusing on the Local Business Listings and how anyone using my methods can boost their local presence on the web

A little bit about me My first experience with computers was on Christmas day when I opened up a game called Pong It was one of the first TV computer games and at the time it was cutting edge Fast forward a bit and my dad bought an Atari 800 computer that I somehow convinced him was better than the Apple alternative Needless to say I used the Atari more than he did Fast forward a bit more and I was in college studying computer science When I graduated my first real job was programming expert systems That job only lasted a short while and then I became a System Analyst working on all sorts of Government Projects In 2008 I moved to a place called Austin and really got my feet wet designing websites for clients During that time I also became interested in all things SEO but never really got to flex my muscles It wasn't until 2016 that I found myself unemployed and wondering what I should do in life After countless resumes failed to get traction in the job market for positions I was interested in a realization hit me that maybe I don't need a company to work for but rather work for myself My wife Kathleen and our pug Olaf were very supportive of the idea So I started a company called <http://HangTenSEO.com> with the goal to help clients out rank their competition Along the way I also started writing articles on SEO best practices which were in many ways teaching moments for me In writing the articles I really had to understand the subjects I was writing about and how to use the techniques to get the best results
