The European Commission's Jurisdiction to Scrutinise Mergers Morten Broberg,1998-04-15 No major business or law firm can afford to disregard the European Commission's power in the control of mergers. Since the Council of Ministers adopted the EC Merger Regulation in 1989, the power of the European Commission has increased steadily. The scope of the Merger Regulation now occupies a central role in many mergers taking place both inside and outside the European Community. To come within the scope of merger regulation and thus within the Commission's jurisdiction, a merger must possess a community dimension. Despite the careful definition of this term in the Merger Regulation itself, the concept has created problems in many cases. The European Commission's Jurisdiction to Scrutinise Mergers offers a comprehensive up to date analysis of all aspects of the community dimension concept. The most thorough examination of the Commission's jurisdiction to examine mergers under the EC Merger Regulation. The European Commission's Jurisdiction to Scrutinise Mergers serves as a valuable guide for businesses, their legal advisors and competition law enforcers in both the Commission and the Member States.

Redefining Sovereignty in International Economic Law Wenhua Shan, Penelope Simons, Dalvinder Singh, 2008-04-21. The contributions in this volume debate the meaning of sovereignty and the impact of international economic law on state sovereignty.

Linking Global Trade and Human Rights Daniel Drache, Lesley A. Jacobs, 2014-03-20. During the global economic crisis of 2008, countries around the world used national policy spaces to respond to the crisis in ways that shed new light on the possibilities for linkages between international trade and human rights. This book introduces the idea of policy space as an innovative way to reframe recent developments in global governance. It brings together a wide ranging group of leading experts in international law, trade, human rights, political economy, international relations and public policy who have been asked to reflect on this important development in globalization. Their multidisciplinary contributions provide explanations for the changing global landscape for national policy space, clearly illustrate instances of this change and project the future paths for policy development in social and economic policy spaces, especially with reference to linkages between international trade and human rights in countries from the Global North as well as Brazil, China and India.

Turkey Centre for Economic Policy Research, 2005-06-20. What requirements must Turkey, the largest country among the candidate and accession countries, meet to join the European Union? What progress has been made toward meeting them? This timely volume analyzes the economic challenges confronting Turkey in its quest to accede to the European Union (EU). It focuses on the extent to which Turkey is ready to join the Single Market, comply with the EU's body of economic regulations and directives (the Acquis Communautaire) and meet the Maastricht criteria for fiscal, monetary and exchange rate policies. This book also provides an assessment of Turkey's national program to meet the accession requirements. It describes briefly what Turkey needs to achieve on the economic policy front to satisfy the conditions for accession, the progress to date and the likely consequences of implementing the full body of EU requirements. The book is divided into four parts: An analysis of the macroeconomic policies for EU accession; An analysis of the effects of integration on key sectors: agriculture, manufacturing, services, industries including banking, telecommunications.

transportation and natural gas and network industries An exploration of key economic policy challenges including labor market regulation foreign direct investment challenges and the costs and benefits of meeting the EU environmental Acquis The quantification of the impact of EU accession and consideration of the welfare effects of integration While the focus is on the specific situation of Turkey the subject will be of value to all researchers with an interest in the challenges of deeper integration through regional agreements From 1897-1916, with additions and revisions to 1928 Edward Stanwood,1916 The American Law Review ,1913 Bowker's Law Books and Serials in Print 1988 R.
