This handbook examines Pakistan's 70 year history from a number of different perspectives. When Pakistan was born it did not have a capital, a functioning government or a central bank. The country lacked a skilled workforce. While the state was in the process of being established, eight million Muslim refugees arrived from India who had to be absorbed into a population of 24 million people. However, within 15 years, Pakistan was the fastest growing and transforming economy in the developing world, although the political evolution of the country during this period was not equally successful. Pakistan has vast agricultural and human resources and its location promises trade, investment and other opportunities. Chapters in the volume, written by experts in the field, examine government and politics, economics, foreign policy and environmental issues, as well as social aspects of Pakistan's development, including the media, technology, gender and education. Shahid Javed Burki is an economist who has been a member of the faculty at Harvard University, USA, and Chief Economist, Planning and Development Department, Government of the Punjab. He has also served as Minister of Finance in the Government of Pakistan and has written a number of books and journal and newspaper articles. He joined the World Bank in 1974 as a senior economist and went on to serve in several senior positions. He was the first Director of the China Department, 1987-94, and served as the Regional Vice President for Latin America and the Caribbean during 1994-99. He is currently the Chair of the Board of Directors of the Shahid Javed Burki Institute of Public Policy at NetSol BIPP in Lahore. Iftekhhar Ahmed Chowdhury is a career Bangladeshi diplomat and former Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Government of Bangladesh, 2007-08. He has a PhD in international relations from the Australian National University, Canberra. He began his career as a member of the civil service of Pakistan in 1969. Dr. Chowdhury has held senior diplomatic positions in the course of his career, including as Permanent Representative of Bangladesh to the United Nations in New York, 2001-07, and in Geneva, 1996-2001, and as ambassador to Qatar, Chile, Peru, and the Vatican. He is currently a visiting senior research fellow at the Institute of South Asian Studies, National University of Singapore. Asad Ejaz Butt is the Director of the Burki Institute of Public Policy, Lahore, Pakistan.

Asia Y. El-Ayouty, 2012-12-06. When the United Nations Charter was signed in San Francisco in 1945, the number of African member states of the Organisation was only 4. By the end of 1960, it had risen to 22. Today, it is 41. How has this come about? The answer is given in this valuable book by Dr. Yassin El-Ayouty. The handful of Asian and African countries who had the privilege of foundation membership made it their business to see to it that their brethren who were still under the colonial yoke attained their freedom and independence as soon as possible and in the meanwhile that they were treated with decency and fairness by their colonial masters It was a tough assignment The struggle was long requiring a great deal of patience and endurance It was at times fierce requiring much dogged resolution It also called for the deployment of intellectual agility of the highest order Fortunately all these qualities were available in the representatives of Asia and Africa who led the great struggle These distinguished delegates also demonstrated a wonderful degree of solidarity which has happily become an Afro Asian tradition at the United Nations The battle began even before the Organisation had itself become a fact It would have been a more difficult struggle had there been no provision in the Charter at all in respect of colonies by whatever name called

The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
