Delayed Frontier The Peace River Country To 1909:

Delayed Frontier David W. Leonard, 1995 The Peace River region lies in the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia The area covered in this book covers those lands lying west of Grouard Alta east of Hudson's Hope B C south from Peace River and Fort St John and north from the Wapiti River and Sturgeon Lake Introd Extracting Home in the Oil Sands Clinton Westman, Tara Joly, Lena Gross, 2019-12-06 The Canadian oil sands are one of the world's most important energy sources and the subject of global attention in relation to climate change and pollution This volume engages ethnographically with key issues concerning the oil sands by working from anthropological literature and beyond to explore how people struggle to make and hold on to diverse senses of home in the region The contributors draw on diverse fieldwork experiences with communities in Alberta that are affected by the oil sands industry Through a series of case studies they illuminate the complexities inherent in the entanglements of race class Indigeneity gender and ontological concerns in a regional context characterized by extreme extraction The chapters are unified in a common concern for ethnographically theorizing settler colonialism sentient landscapes and multispecies relations within a critical political ecology framework and by the prominent role that extractive industries play in shaping new relations between Indigenous Peoples the state newcomers corporations plants animals and the land Iroquois in the West Jean Barman, 2019-03-04 Two centuries ago many hundreds of Iroquois principally from what is now Kahnawake left home without leaving behind their ways of life Recruited to man the large canoes that transported trade goods and animal pelts from and to Montreal some Iroquois soon returned while others were enticed ever further west by the rapidly expanding fur trade Recounting stories of Indigenous self-determination and self-sufficiency Iroquois in the West tracks four clusters of travellers across time place and generations a band that settled in Montana another ranging across the American West others opting for British Columbia and the Pacific Northwest and a group in Alberta who were evicted when their longtime home became Jasper National Park Reclaiming slivers of Iroquois knowledge anecdotes and memories from the shadows of the past Jean Barman draws on sources that range from descendants' recollections to fur trade and government records to travellers' accounts What becomes clear is that no matter the places or the circumstances the Iroquois never abandoned their senses of self Opening up new ways of thinking about Indigenous peoples through time Iroquois in the West shares the fascinating adventures of a people who have waited over two hundred years to be heard Violent Crime in North America Louis A. Knafelz, 2003-12-30 This the nineteenth volume of Criminal Justice History features seven original essays on the history of violent crimes and punishments in North America in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries including a major bibliography on capital punishment and the death penalty in the United States The volume also contains a long book review essay on eleven books dealing with aspects of global terrorism and reviews of eleven individual major works on the history and ideology of crime and criminal justice that have appeared from the end of the 1990s The introduction outlines the issues and themes that are contained in the essays and reviews As in the earlier volumes in this series a comprehensive index identifies all subjects names and places in the volume Academic Writing, Third Edition Steven C.
