Rumour Elizabeth Sara Sheppard, 1893

Leanne's Journey J. R. Runnels, The wind howled like a banshee clawing at the ancient stone of Blackwood Manor its icy fingers rattling the leaded windows Inside Count Vlad a creature of both immense power and profound solitude sat bathed in the flickering light of a vast fireplace The flames danced in a macabre ballet casting long distorted shadows that writhed across the intricately carved oak paneling He was a study in contrasts a man of breathtaking beauty his pale skin stretched taut over sharp cheekbones his eyes the color of a stormy night cobalt blue to obsidian black yet his features held the harsh angles of a predator etched by centuries of darkness and a life lived far beyond the boundaries of mortality He sighed a sound like the rustling of dry leaves in the autumn wind He turned from the window his eyes falling upon a single perfect white orchid sitting in a crystal vase on his desk The delicate flower with its exquisite petals and intoxicating fragrance was a stark contrast to the grim reality of his life It was a gift a rare and precious thing one he d sent to Leanne only hours before The thought of her a flicker of warmth in his otherwise desolate existence brought a faint smile to his lips Leanne was an anomaly a woman who somehow saw beyond the darkness that cloaked him who saw the heart of a man hidden beneath layers of cynicism and power She was his refuge his only true connection to the world of mortals Their bond was not a love story in the traditional sense rather an intricate dance between two souls seeking solace in a world consumed by shadows A quiet comfort in the darkness a fragile understanding that bloomed in the most unlikely of places And tonight he found himself anticipating her next visit her soft presence a glimmer of hope in the overwhelming solitude of his immortal existence Her past was not a gentle tapestry woven with threads of joy and comfort It was a harsh unforgiving landscape scarred by loss and etched with the marks of trauma Alexander then a mere lieutenant in Vlad s army was a figure sculpted from the very essence of the Carpathians themselves strong silent and impossibly lethal His eyes the color of an erupting volcano crimson red held a chilling intensity that spoke of countless battles fought and won his movements as fluid and deadly as a panther s But even in the midst of carnage a different kind of beauty bloomed It was in the quiet moments between battles amidst the ravaged landscape that Alexander met Leanna He had found her in town of Vlad s garden within his castle walls They started eating lunch together whenever they could Stolen moments during the day where Vlad could not touch them He did not know the extent of Vlad s obsession with Leanne or their lost connection Leanna with her hair the color of spun moonlight and eyes that held the wisdom of ages was the antithesis of the brutal world that surrounded them Her laughter a tinkling bell in the shadowed forests was a balm to Alexander s wounded soul a counterpoint to the constant symphony of violence that echoed through the Carpathians Vlad s rage was a physical thing a tangible heat that radiated from him as he tore through the opulent chambers of Blackwood Castle He d spent weeks months even away leading his brutal campaign across the ravaged northern territories his mind constantly returning to the vision of Leanne her laughter echoing faintly in the clang of steel and the screams of his enemies He d entrusted her safety to Alexander his most loyal or so he d thought knight a man bound to him by oaths of fealty older than the kingdom itself Who will Leanne choose to have a life with

Reworking the German Past Susan G. Figge, Jenifer K. Ward, 2010 Coming to terms with the past has been a preoccupation within German culture and German Studies since the Second World War In addition there has been a surge of interest in adaptation of literary works in recent years Numerous volumes have theorized chronicled or analyzed adaptations from novel to film asking how and why adaptations are undertaken and what happens when a text is adapted in a particular historical context With its focus on adaptation of twentieth century German texts not only from one medium to another but also from one cultural moment to another the present collection resides at the intersection of these two areas of inquiry The ten essays treat a variety of media Each considers the way in which a particular adaptation alters a story or history for a subsequent audience taking into account the changing context in which the retelling takes place and the evolution of cultural strategies for coming to terms with the past The resulting case studies find in the retellings potentially corrective versions of the stories for changing times The volume makes the case that adaptation studies are particularly well suited for tracing Germany s obsessive cultural engagement with its twentieth century history Contributors Elizabeth Baer Rachel Epp Buller Maria Euchner Richard C Figge Susan G Figge Mareike Hermann Linda Hutcheon Irene Lazda Cary Nathenson Thomas Sebastian Sunka Simon Jenifer K Ward Susan G Figge is Professor of German Emeritus at the College of Wooster Ohio and Jenifer K Ward is Associate Provost Cornish College of the Arts Seattle

Family Life in China William R. Jankowiak, Robert L. Moore, 2016-11-28 The family has long been viewed as both a microcosm of the state and a barometer of social change in China. It is no surprise therefore that the dramatic changes experienced by Chinese society over the past century have produced a wide array of new family systems. Where a widely accepted Confucian based ideology once offered a standard framework for family life, current ideas offer no such uniformity. Ties of affection rather than duty have become prominent in determining what individuals feel they owe to their spouses, parents, children, and others. Chinese millennials, facing a world of opportunities and at the same time feeling a sense of heavy obligation, are reshaping patterns of courtship, marriage, and filiality in ways that were not foreseen by their parents nor by the authorities of the Chinese state. Those whose roots are in the countryside but who have left their homes to seek opportunity and adventure in the city face particular pressures, as do the children and elders they have left behind. The authors explore this diversity, focusing on rural vs. urban differences, regionalism, and ethnic diversity within China. Family Life in China presents new perspectives on what the current changes in this institution imply for a rapidly changing society.
