The group of stories brought together in this volume differ from legends because they have with one exception no core of fact at the centre from myths because they make no attempt to personify or explain the forces or processes of nature from fairy stories because they do not often bring on to the stage actors of a different nature from ours They give full play to the fancy as in A Child s Dream of a Star The King of the Golden River Undine and The Snow Image but they are not poetic records of the facts of life attempts to shape those facts to meet the needs of the imagination the cravings of the heart In the Introduction to the book of Fairy Tales in this series those familiar and much loved stories which have been repeated to children for unnumbered generations and will be repeated to the end of time are described as records of the free and joyful play of the imagination opening doors through hard conditions to the spirit which craves power freedom happiness righting wrongs and redressing injuries defeating base designs rewarding patience and virtue crowning true love with happiness placing the powers of darkness under the control of man and making their ministers his servants The stories which make up this volume are closer to experience and come for the most part nearer to the every day happenings of life
