Dog Body Language Arthur Williams, 2021-06-13 We love our dogs very much just as they equally love and trying their best to please us In their efforts to see that we are happy with them dogs learn some of our human languages expressed in basic commands like sit down stand release come etc when we speak to them we expect them to understand and comply to our bidding But we disappoint them each time they speak to us and we don't understand Do dogs really speak you may ask Humans can communicate with them and dogs can too The difference is while humans primarily use verbal communication dogs mainly communicate non-verbally through the use of body language and non-verbal vocalizations The body language includes the ear and eye position, body movement and facial expressions Knowledge of body language and the ability to accurately identify it will help determine what a dog is trying to communicate Any claim to loving and bonding deeply with a dog without understanding dog's language is false how can you foster love when there is a gap in communication If you truly love your furry friend and wish to bond deeply understanding dog's body language is a prerequisite it helps us to know how they are feeling please them save a situation put them and those around them out of harm's way and satisfy their genuine cravings we owe our beloved canine friend that much As a result this book is a compulsory reading for all dog owners and dog lovers in the book we clearly identified all the components of dog body language explicitly described dog body language mannerisms coherently dissected how to recognize and interpret individual dog body language signals and elaborately enhanced understanding of dog's body language by comprehensively presenting various situational contexts a combination of these signals are used to communicate what and how they are feeling This book offers a valuable insight into the workings of the mind and thinking of a dog After reading this book you will learn how to understand relate and treat your canine friend better Teach Yourself Visually Dog

Decoding Your Dog Amer. Coll. of Veterinary Behaviorists, Debra F. Horwitz, 2014-01-07 The board certified specialists of the American College of Veterinary Behaviorists are here to decode how dogs think how they communicate and how they learn More than 90 percent of dog owners consider their pets to be members of their family But often despite our best intentions we are letting our dogs down by not giving them the guidance and direction they need Unwanted behavior is the number one reason dogs are relinquished to shelters and rescue groups The key to training dogs effectively is first to understand why our dogs do what they do And no one can address this more authoritatively than the diplomates of the American College of Veterinary Behaviorists whose expert and researched work analyze problem behaviors and correct common misconceptions With veterinary approved positive training methods expert advice on socialization and remedies for behavior problems such as OCD and aggression Decoding Your Dog is the must have behavior guide that will challenge the way we think about man's best friend

Reading Your Dog Body Language Jamey Bourgon, 2021-07-30 You've heard the expression to wear one's heart on their sleeve It means that someone lets their emotions be known without actually having to tell anybody how they feel Dogs are in a constant state of wearing their hearts on their sleeves Pups are great because of how simple they can be They have a very instinctual language and as we learn to recognize how they communicate we begin to better understand what our furry friend is telling us through dog body language You don't have to be Cesar Milan to know when a dog is happy hurt or angry The obvious sign of a wagging tail or a vicious growl lets you know right away what that dog is feeling at that exact moment What you may not have noticed were the subtle signs that led to that behavior that lets us humans know how a canine arrives at a certain state of mind This book ultimately guides you to understand all the various body parts and vocal sounds dogs use in communicating to us It widely covers various critical situations and possible body language nuances dogs put up to tell us what they want and how they feel It is very important we understand what they are saying and act accordingly to keep them from harm's way or please them Our dog gets frustrated disappointed and possibly unleash aggression each time they don't understand us or we don't understand them Decoding your dog through understanding dog's body language is key to avoid conflicts with our canine friend It helps us to bond deeply with them
