Doing Business In 2005 Obstacles To Growth:

Doing Business in 2005 00 ,2005 Doing Business in 2005 ,2005 Doing Business in 2005 Obstacles to Growth is the second in a series of annual reports investigating the scope and manner of regulations that enhance business activity and those that constrain it New quantitative indicators on business regulations and their enforcement can be compared across more than 130 countries and over time The indicators are used to analyze economic outcomes and identify what reforms have worked where and why Topics in Doing Business in 2005 include Licensing and Inspections Having registered a business now what In most countries firms face a myriad of sector specific licenses as well as inspections to enforce compliance The Doing Business database constructs two sets of indicators on the regulation of operations One measures the steps time and costs of complying with licensing and permit requirements for ongoing The other assesses the enforcement of regulations through two of the most common types of inspections labor and tax Registering Property Property registries were first developed to help raise tax revenue What was good for the tax authorities has since proven to be good for strengthening property rights the registries strengthen incentives to invest facilitate trade and expand access to credit New indicators cover the steps time and cost to register property Measures of the legal provisions that strengthen property rights and the efficiency of property registries are also developed Protecting Investors Corporate governance issues are often thought to affect only publicly listed companies in developed countries In fact corporate governance is relevant for every large privately held company that has more than one owner New indicators examine several possible types of shareholder expropriation including related party transactions guarantees and loans to company managers and directors mergers and acquisitions disclosure of ownership information and treatment of conflicts of interest Including a new emphasis on gender Doing Business not only provides insights into business constraints throughout the world but highlights particular barriers faced by women Doing Business is a comprehensive resource that no investor economic adviser business developer or economic policymaker should be without Reducing Administrative Barriers to Investment Scott H. Jacobs, Jacqueline G.

Coolidge, 2006 This book describes the recent activities of the Foreign Investment Advisory Service a joint facility of the IFC and the World Bank to help governments in developing and transition economies to identify and remove administrative barriers to investment Lessons learned include the critical need for political will to implement reforms leadership from center of government and capacity to ensure sound implementation of legislative and regulatory reform over an extended period of time including regular monitoring and evaluation Challenges to Enterprise Performance in the Face of the Financial Crisis ,2011-06-10 This report addresses the core components of enterprise activity namely the factors of production and the public infrastructure to support them In the period just before the financial crisis a number of elements such as access to finance skills and education of labor and infrastructure emerged as important obstacles to enterprise growth The aggregate level of enterprise activity and its productivity largely depend on the availability and quality of these components The relative importance of these obstacles has evolved over time reflecting structural reforms and progress in improving the business environment. Some of these constraints may have eased because of the crisis but their presence during a period of economic growth suggests that there are important unfinished structural reforms among countries in the ECA region. This report explores the impact of these constraints on firm performance in 29 Eastern European and Central Asian countries. The results show that enterprises in the region face varying levels of pressure depending on their features, location, resources directly accessible to them, and characteristics of country governance and regulatory frameworks. The report takes stock of enterprise sector performance along these three key dimensions near the end of two decades of the transition process. It is therefore critical to understand where firms in these countries stand now in terms of their relative access to finance, labor markets, and quality of labor and infrastructure capacity.

Globalization and Policy Challenges for Economies in Transition Rob Vos, Malinka Koparanova, 2011-01-01. The countries in Central and Eastern Europe and the Commonwealth of Independent States have opened up their economies to the world economy as a step towards a profound transformation from plan to market. Some have fully integrated into the European market while others have not. This book focuses on the challenges economies face when in transition.

OECD SME and Entrepreneurship Outlook 2005 Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 2005. Small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) represent over 95 per cent of businesses in most OECD countries and generate about two thirds of private sector employment. This is the third edition of this publication which reviews recent trends relating to SMEs and entrepreneurship in OECD economies and beyond as well as reporting on recent policy initiatives to promote the competitiveness of the SME sector. Issues covered include regulatory and administrative burdens, entrepreneurship education and training, SME access to financing, technology innovation and international markets, the growing importance of women's entrepreneurship and local policy issues. This edition also includes the text of the Istanbul Ministerial Declaration on fostering the growth of innovative and internationally competitive SMEs.

Foreign Affairs, 2006. The Journal of Economic Perspectives, 2006. This journal attempts to fill a gap between the general interest press and other academic economics journals. Its articles relate to active lines of economics research, economic analysis of public policy issues, state of the art economic thinking and directions for future research. It also aims to provide material for classroom use and to address issues relating to the economics profession.
