Introduction

Doing more business online doesn't require much time, expertise or money to become a reality – and smaller businesses in particular can gain huge benefits by taking their business online.

Building a website

What does the website do?

A website is a company's shop window on the internet, i.e. where customers expect and want to find them. With e-commerce becoming increasingly popular in recent years, customers have turned to the online marketplace to purchase products. A website is quite possibly the first point of contact with your customer. Making a good impression is crucial, and it will give you a better chance of a sale or a returning customer. Make a bad impression and your customers could look elsewhere. With this in mind, setting up a website is a key step in becoming more digitally engaged and developing your online presence.
