Donkeys Crusade:

    The Donkey's Crusade Jean Morris,1983 Thomas and Ears his magical donkey and confidant journey east from Jerusalem across ancient Asia while the fate of Christendom hangs in the balance   Warfare, Crusade and Conquest in the Middle Ages John France,2023-04-21 This volume brings together a series of articles by John France published over a span of more than forty years covering a number of aspects of the military and crusading history of the Middle Ages both in Europe and the Near East An interest in understanding how war worked and why informs a first group of articles ranging from Carolingian armies to the organisation of war in the 13th century The focus then turns to the Crusades the most ambitious conquests of the era with a set of studies on the First Crusade and others on the manner and conduct of warfare in the territories of the Latin East The volume also includes a major unpublished analysis co authored with Nicholas Morton of the problems faced by the local Islamic powers in the early Crusading period reminding us that an army is only as strong as its enemies permit and suggesting that the crusaders should be seen in this light   The Crusades and Nature Jessalynn L. Bird,Elizabeth Lapina,2024-07-31 The Crusades and Nature Natural and Supernatural Environments in the Middle Ages explores the intersection of crusader studies and studies of nature The volume addresses encounters with responses to and representations of a broad variety of phenomena celestial objects and events familiar and unfamiliar fauna and flora seascapes and landscapes the elements and the seasons etc It introduces readers to crusaders actual but also largely or entirely imaginary encounters with natural phenomena as well as literary references to nature in crusader sources more generally such as for example animal metaphors Finally this project investigates the relationships between the natural and the supernatural and between nature and human made environments The volume will define crusades broadly to include not only crusades to the East but also crusades to frontier regions such as the Baltic and Iberian peninsula and extends to representations of crusades and nature in later medieval and early modern sources   War and Violence in the Western Sources for the First Crusade Sini Kangas,2024-05-27 Medieval Westerners accepted killing for religion and praised the outcome of the First Crusade 1096 1099 At the same time their attitude to violence was ambivalent Theologians shunned the practical use of force while the warrior aristocracy valued the capacity for physical destruction In the absence of theological doctrine on the practicalities of holy warfare the first crusaders draw their ideas about killing from diverse and sometimes conflicting traditions This book answers questions about how religious violence was described justified and remembered in the sources of the First Crusade What was the relation between faith convention and action   Temporary Crusaders Cecil Sommers,1919   Writing the Early Crusades Marcus Graham Bull,Damien Kempf,2014 A pioneering approach to contemporary historical writing on the First Crusade looking at the texts as cultural artefacts rather than simply for the evidence they contain The First Crusade 1095 1101 was the stimulus for a substantial boom in Western historical writing in the first decades of the twelfth century beginning with the so called eyewitness accounts of the crusade and extending to numerous second hand treatments in prose and verse From the time when many of these accounts were first assembled in printed form by Jacques Bongars in the early seventeenth century and even more so since their collective appearance in the great nineteenth century compendium of crusade texts the Recueil des historiens des croisades narrative histories have come to be regarded as the single most important resource for the academic study of the early crusade movement But our understanding of these texts is still far from satisfactory This ground breaking volume draws together the work of an international team of scholars It tackles the disjuncture between the study of the crusades and the study of medieval history writing setting the agenda for future research into historical narratives about or inspired by crusading The basic premise that informs all the papers is that narrative accounts of crusades and analogous texts should not be primarily understood as repositories of data that contribute to a reconstruction of events but as cultural artefacts that can be interrogated from a wide range of theoretical methodological and thematic perspectives MARCUS BULL is Andrew W Mellon Distinguished Professor of Medieval and Early Modern Studies at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill DAMIEN KEMPF is Senior Lecturer in Medieval History at the University of Liverpool Contributors Laura Ashe Steven Biddlecombe Marcus Bull Peter Frankopan Damian Kempf James Naus L an N Chl irigh Nicholas Paul William J Purkis Luigi Russo Jay Rubenstein Carol Sweetenham   The Donkey and the Boat Chris Wickham,2023 A new account of the Mediterranean economy in the 10th to 12th centuries forcing readers to entirely rethink the underlying logic to medieval economic systems Chris Wickham re examines documentary and archaeological sources to give a detailed account of both individual economies and their relationships with each other Chris Wickham offers a new account of the Mediterranean economy in the tenth to twelfth centuries based on a completely new look at the sources documentary and archaeological Our knowledge of the Mediterranean economy is based on syntheses which are between 50 and 150 years old they are based on outdated assumptions and restricted data sets and were written before there was any usable archaeology and Wickham contends that they have to be properly rethought This is the first book ever to give a fully detailed comparative account of the regions of the Mediterranean in this period in their internal economies and in their relationships with each other It focusses on Egypt Tunisia Sicily the Byzantine empire Islamic Spain and Portugal and north central Italy and gives the first comprehensive account of the changing economies of each only Byzantium has a good prior synthesis It aims to force our rethinking of how economies worked in the medieval Mediterranean It also offers a rethinking of how we should understand the underlying logic of the medieval economy in general   Crusader's Coast Edward John Thompson,1929   The Crusades Harold Lamb,1930   The Crusades Konrad Bercovici,1929   With Allenby's Crusaders John N.
