Rereading the Imperial Romance Laura Chrisman, 2000 This book examines literary romance as a vehicle for the ideological contradictions of British imperialism in South Africa Chrisman draws upon postcolonial theory and cultural materialism to discuss the imperialist Rider Haggard's fictional accounts of mining in King Solomon's Mines and Zulu history in Nada the Lily examining these novels as fraught responses to the introduction of capitalist modernity She goes on to analyse the counter narratives of metropolitan and African resistance of feminist Olive Schreiner and black nationalist Sol Plaatje Exploring Schreiner's much neglected Trooper Peter Halket of Mashonaland Chrisman situates this book in relation to the violent creation of Rhodesia the 1896-7 Shona uprisings and contemporary criticism of Cecil Rhodes In doing so she shows how Schreiner's is a much more challenging example of anti imperialist fiction than Conrad's Heart of Darkness published two years later Chrisman's discussion of Plaatje's Mhudi the first black African novel in English considers the book as a direct response to Haggard's imperialism and Schreiner's feminist theory Locating the book through the politics and epistemology of the early ANC she reveals how Plaatje challenges Haggard's misogyny and fatalistic historiography Mhudi she argues is a novel whose nationalist and sexual politics are considerably more complex than has been recognized Plaatje uses his narrative form to articulate both radical and liberal alternatives to white South African rule Chrisman's book demonstrates how South Africa played an important if now overlooked role in British imperial culture and shows the impact of capitalism itself in the making of racial gender and national identities This book makes an original contribution to studies of Victorian literature of empire South African literary history African studies black nationalism and the literature of resistance

The Novels of Shashi Deshpande in Postcolonial Arguments Mrinalini Sebastian, 2000 This

Book Analyses Some Of The Arguments Of Major Postcolonial Thinkers Such As Edward Said Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak And Homi K Bhabha It Discusses The Possibility Of Postcolonial Readings Of Literary Texts And Presents The Novels Shashi Deshpande In A Postcolonial Framework The Rose and the Lotus Stefano Mercanti,2009-01-01 Raja Rao one of the founding figures of Indian English literature is re examined in this comprehensive study of his fiction which offers a fresh critical investigation into both his short stories and his novels Powerfully contradicting the long held perception of Raja Rao as a mere metaphysical writer and the true bard of quintessential Indianness projected by many critics of the first Commonwealth generation over three decades Stefano Mercanti posits Rao s fiction in terms of its dialogic interaction the partnership between Western and Eastern cultural traditions and demonstrates how it evolves during the course of his oeuvre on both the philosophical and the political level The title The Rose and the Lotus signals the discursive terrain for a multicultural and interwoven evolution among different cultures and points to the need for valuing relations of reciprocity rather than those of domination Far from conveying univocal configurations and nationalistic stereotypes Rao s idea of India is seen as the epicentre of many echoes and dynamic resonances both Western and Eastern through which a distinct blend of Indian and European influences is more clearly unravelled In this new critical re appraisal Mercanti draws on non binary and inter multi disciplinary paradigms thus signalling the complex transformations and multiple negotiations of a polyglot India caught between the cultural twilight of the modern and the traditional The study also offers an invaluable linguistic analysis of Rao s experiment with the English language supplemented by a detailed glossary The Imperial History Wars Dane Kennedy,2018-01-11 The history of the British Empire a subject that had slipped into obscurity when the empire came to an end has since made a stunning comeback generating a series of heated debates about the causes character and consequences of empire In this volume Dane Kennedy offers a wide ranging assessment of the main schools of thought that have transformed the way we view the British Empire and the world it helped to create Navigating a clear course through these intellectual waters requires an awareness of their shifting currents and a commitment to tracking their changing character over time Dane Kennedy has contributed to the imperial history wars for more than thirty years and in this volume he brings his most important writings along with brand new material together for the first time to provide a sweeping overview of the subject and the debates that have shaped it The Imperial History Wars is essential reading for any student or scholar of the British Empire Companion to the New Literatures in English Christa Jansohn,2002 Postcolonial Theory and Psychoanalysis Mrinalini Greedharry,2008-04-30 Psychoanalytic theory has been the critical instrument of choice for colonial critics This book examines why critics who are otherwise suspicious of Western forms of knowledge are drawn to psychoanalytic theories and whether it is possible to use such theories without reproducing the colonial discourse that also structures psychoanalytic thought Postcolonial Theory and Lusophone Literatures Paulo de Medeiros,2007 Postcolonial Theory B. J. Moore-Gilbert,1997 Much controversy has recently come to surround the status and value of

postcolonial modes of cultural analysis Postcolonial theory has been challenged on several fronts on its interdisciplinary competence on the politics of its institutional location and its implicit will to have power over other kinds of postcolonial analysis many of which have been established for much longer than postcolonial theory itself The ensuing debate has often become so heated even personalized that the issues at stake have been obscured In what is the most comprehensive and accessible survey of the field to date Bart Moore Gilbert systematically examines the objections that have been raised against postcolonial theory revealing the simplifications and exaggerations on both sides of the argument He provides a detailed institutional history of the ways in which the relationship between culture and colonialism was traditionally studied in the West then traces the emergence of alternative forms of postcolonial analysis of such questions He gives an extremely careful presentation of the complex and elusive work of the three principal representatives of postcolonial theory Gayatri Spivak Edward Said and Homi Bhabha and considers the criticisms they have faced from an alleged Eurocentrism to an obfuscatory prose style And he assesses the overlaps and differences between postcolonial theory and other forms of postcolonial criticism Finally he considers the ways in which postcolonial analysis may be connected with different histories of oppression and looks at how such a heterogeneous theory can be reconciled with political questions of solidarity and alliance in the continuing struggle for cultural decolonization

Post-colonial Theory and English Literature Peter Childs,1999
Includes critical essays on William Shakespeare s The Tempest Daniel Defoe s Robinson Crusoe Charlotte Bronte s Jane Eyre Joseph Conrad s Heart of Darkness Rudyard Kipling s Kim James Joyce s Ulysses E M Forster s A passage to India and Salman Rushdie s The satanic verses Wisconsin International Law Journal ,1997 Encyclopedia of Aesthetics ,1998

Imagining Armenia Jo Laycock,2009-06-15 This book examines how Armenia and Armenians were portrayed in Britain at a decisive moment in modern history It illustrates how British observers represented the in between position of Armenians and considers the early development of atrocity narratives which related acts of violence and oppression by the Ottomans It goes on to examine responses to the massacres of the Armenians during the First World War showing how established images of Armenians were transformed in the wake of this crisis Laycock then turns to the post war period when attempts were made to define and establish an independent Armenian nation state in the midst of international efforts to provide for the relief and resettlement of Armenian refugees The book ends with the long term implications that British and international abandonment of the Armenians had for their subsequent place in public memory This book will be of interest to scholars modern British history Armenian history and wider issues within European studies Fictions of India Peter Morey,2000 Fictions of India explores the relation of narrative technique to issues of power in the work of selected writers dealing with India It examines the imperial context in which the writers operate and suggests how historical and ideological assumptions and anxieties may be read into the texts they produce The study combines aspects of colonial and post colonial debate with narrative theories to illuminate the work of these writers operating on either side of an epistemological divide formed by

Indian independence in 1947 The book focuses largely on British writers on India with chapters on Kipling E M Forster John Masters J G Farrell and Paul Scott A final comparative chapter traces the issues of narrative and power in the work of two post independence Indian writers Khushwant Singh and Rohinton Mistry and deals with the burden of storytelling in a post colonial situation still fraught with communal and neo colonial abuses This book is an important contribution to our understanding of how narrative fiction can reflect and confirm but also contest and dismantle discourses of power Features Offers new interpretations of well known texts and writers Suggests an agenda for studying new and less well known texts to examine the play of narrative and power more generally Demonstrates possible relations between narrative technique and those larger narratives which feed into the operation of political power Challenges exclusivist readings which have often asserted the colonial and the post colonial to be antithetical and mutually exclusive discursive entities
