Combined Antimicrobial Therapy W. Brumfitt, L. Curcio, L. Silvestri, 1980-01-31 Emerging Antimicrobials: Sources, Mechanisms of Action, Spectrum of Activity, Combination Antimicrobial Therapy, and Resistance Mechanisms John Osei Sekyere, Thamarai Schneiders, Piotr Majewski, Amanda Claire Brown, 2026-01-15 The rising prevalence of multidrug resistant MDR extensively drug resistant XDR and totally drug resistant TDR pathogens represents one of the most significant challenges in modern medicine Invasive infections caused by MDR and XDR pathogens are estimated to cause over 2.8 million infections and 35 000 deaths annually in the United States alone Globally the mortality rate for some invasive infections exceeds 50% The economic burden is also staggering with drug resistant infections costing the U S healthcare system more than 4.6 billion annually Antibiotics which are critical to modern medicine play an essential role in treating bacterial infections such as pneumonia sepsis tuberculosis and urinary tract infections as well as preventing infections in surgical procedures and during cancer chemotherapy Without effective antibiotics these treatments and surgeries would become significantly more dangerous leading to increased morbidity mortality and healthcare costs The growing resistance of pathogens to most or all existing antimicrobial agents underscores the urgent need for innovative solutions to prevent a potential post antibiotic era where even routine infections could become untreatable Currently treatment and prophylaxis pipelines primarily rely on existing drug classes and their derivatives This dependence has resulted in a limited arsenal of effective therapeutic options posing a significant challenge in clinical practice This issue is particularly critical for infections caused by fungal pathogens mycobacteria and Gram positive and Gram negative bacteria Consequently the emergence of MDR XDR PDR pan drug resistant and TDR pathogens severely limits treatment options for infections caused by these organisms Combination Antibiotic Therapy in the Compromised Host Jean Klustersky, Maurice J.
