Defending The Us Homeland:

Defending the American Homeland Heritage Foundation (Washington, D.C.). Homeland Security Task Force, L. Paul Bremer, Edwin Meese, 2002 The terrorist attacks of September 11 struck at the very heart of the American homeland It was a new form of total war in the age of terrorism and it put all Americans on notice that the United States is dangerously vulnerable and that new means are urgently needed to strengthen the security of the homeland The Heritage Foundation Homeland Security Task Force was formed days after the September 11 attacks to meet this urgent need This comprehensive study incorporates the recommendations of the Task Force for securing a vulnerable America Provided by publisher A Grand Strategy for America Robert J. Art, 2013-02-15 The United States today is the most powerful nation in the world perhaps even stronger than Rome was during its heyday It is likely to remain the world's preeminent power for at least several decades to come What behavior is appropriate for such a powerful state To answer this question Robert J Art concentrates on grand strategy the deployment of military power in both peace and war to support foreign policy goals He first defines America's contemporary national interests and the specific threats they face then identifies seven grand strategies that the United States might contemplate examining each in relation to America's interests The seven are dominion forcibly trying to remake the world in America's own image global collective security attempting to keep the peace everywhere regional collective security confining peacekeeping efforts to Europe cooperative security seeking to reduce the occurrence of war by limiting other states offensive capabilities isolationism withdrawing from all military involvement beyond U S borders containment holding the line against aggressor states and selective engagement choosing to prevent or to become involved only in those conflicts that pose a threat to the country's long term interests Art makes a strong case for selective engagement as the most desirable strategy for contemporary America It is the one that seeks to forestall dangers not simply react to them that is politically viable at home and abroad and that protects all U S interests both essential and desirable Art concludes that selective engagement is not a strategy for all times but it is the best grand strategy for these times

Retrench, Defend, Compete Charles L. Glaser, 2025-12-15 In Retrench Defend Compete Charles L Glaser advances a thought provoking strategy for securing vital US interests in the face of China's rise Many believe China's ascent will drive it to war with the United States Yet this is far from inevitable geography and nuclear weapons should ensure US security The real danger Glaser contends lies in East Asia's territorial disputes especially over Taiwan To reduce the risk of war Glaser makes a bold case for ending US security commitments to Taiwan and carefully calibrating its policies on protecting South China Sea maritime features The United States should also strengthen its alliances with Japan and South Korea and eliminate unnecessarily provocative nuclear and conventional weapons policies These measures Glaser argues would defuse China's biggest security concerns while preserving America's core strategic interests Fusing theoretical insights with policy analysis Retrench Defend Compete lays out a distinctive and compelling approach for managing the world's most consequential geopolitical rivalry before it's too late Defending the U.S. Homeland Fred Charles Iklé, 1999

Military Strategy of Great Powers Håkan Edström, Jacob Westberg, 2021-09-20 This book explores the military strategies of the five system determining great powers during the twenty first century The book's point of departure is that analyses of countries defence strategies should acknowledge that states come in various shapes and sizes and that their strategic choices are affected by their perceptions of their position in the international system and by power asymmetries between more and less resourceful states This creates a diversity in strategies that is often overlooked in theoretically oriented analyses The book examines how five major powers the United States China the United Kingdom France and Russia have adjusted their strategies to improve or maintain their relative position and to manage power asymmetries during the twenty first century It also develops and applies an analytical framework for exploring and categorising the strategies pursued by the five major powers which combines elements of structural realism with research on power transition theory and status competition The concluding chapter addresses questions related to stability and change in the present international system This book will be of interest to students of strategic studies foreign policy and International Relations
