introduction to The Art of Anglo-Saxon England Catherine E. Karkov, 2011 Providing a fresh appraisal of the art of Anglo Saxon England this text looks at its influence upon the creation of an identity as a nation Experimental Histories Hannah Weaver, 2024-08-15 In Experimental Histories Hannah Weaver examines the medieval practice of interpolation inserting material from one text into another which is often categorized as being a problematic inauthentic phenomenon akin to forgery and pseudepigraphy Instead Weaver promotes interpolation as the signature form of medieval British historiography and a vehicle of historical theory arguing that some of the most novel concepts of time in medieval historiography can be found in these altered narratives of the past For Weaver historiographical interpolation constitutes the traces of active experimentation with how best to write history particularly the history of Britain Historians in twelfth and thirteenth century Britain recognized the difficulty of enfolding complex events into a linear chronology and embraced innovative textual methods of creating history Focusing on the Brut tradition but also analyzing the long history of interpolated historiography including the Bayeux Embroidery Experimental Histories offers a new interpretation of generic remixing in medieval writing about the past Drawing on both manuscript studies and the new formalism it shows that the practice of inserting materials from romance and hagiography allowed creative revisers to explore how lived events relate to passing time By embracing interpolation Weaver provides lively insights into the ways that time becomes history and human actors experience time The Book of the Settlement of Iceland Ari Thorgilsson (the Learned), 1898 The Great Rift Michael E. Hobart, 2018-04-16 Michael Hobart locates the great rift between science and religion not in ideological disagreement but in advances in mathematics and symbolic representation that moved past language to open new windows onto the natural world His work connects the cognitive breakthroughs of the past with intellectual debates ongoing in the twenty first century British Numismatic Journal, 1908 Is Anyone in Charge Here? Selwyn Yeoman, 2020-12-22 What are our responsibilities as human beings in the exercise of our undoubted powers over all other creatures and the earth itself The idea that human beings have dominion over the rest of creation is often regarded as the chief source of the world's current environmental crisis From the universities to talk back radio this is a commonly repeated theme but how strong is its basis Is Anyone in Charge Here is a critical conversation with the seminal Lynn White paper The Historical Roots of Our Ecologic Crisis Easter Island New Zealand and ancient Mesopotamia biblical exegesis historical theology monastic movements and current environmental challenges are all explored It examines the roots of the idea of human dominion how the idea has been understood through the centuries how people have worked it into their living and how it might be constructively applied in our current crisis All this is theologically evaluated in the light of Jesus Christ being both the true human and God's way of involvement in the world as creative Word representative image and serving Lord Northerners: A History, from the Ice Age to the Present Day Brian Groom, 2022-04-14 A Waterstones Best History Book of the Year The bestselling history of the North of England as told through the lives of its inhabitants Entertaining The Times Definitive The
