Toledo Granada and at the royal court Liang shows how over the course of four generations their service vitally transformed the empire as well as the family The Fern ndez de C rdoba established networks of kin and clients that horizontally connected disparate imperial territories binding together religious communities Christians Muslims and Jews and political factions Comunero rebels and French and Ottoman sympathizers into an incorporated imperial polity Liang explores how at the same time dedication to service shaped the personal lives of family members as they uprooted households realigned patronage ties and altered identities that for centuries had been deeply rooted in local communities in order to embark on imperial careers
