Australia's War with France Richard James, 2017-09-05 1941 Great Britain is fighting for its very existence France has surrendered and installed Marshal P tain an ageing reactionary as head of a hostile new government at Vichy The Allied outpost in Egypt and the Suez Canal its strategic jewel are threatened on both sides To the west Rommel is rampaging through North Africa To the east the Germans are arming rebels and fostering an uprising in British Iraq Churchill s cabinet is reeling after disastrous campaign in Greece There are fears of a German takeover in Vichy controlled Syria and Lebanon where a languishing French colonial army may fall in line with the Nazis Churchill orders a disgruntled General Wavell to take the offensive assuming that the French will not put up a fight against an Allied show of force The only troops available are a division of Australians the 7th untested recruits digging ditches in the Egyptian desert This is the story of how the 7th Division came to fight against the Army of the Levant Australia against France in the rocky hills of Lebanon and the barren wastes of Syria Contrary to Churchill s expectations the French resisted viciously The Australians won the war but at the price of more than 400 young men sons of Anzacs who had fought to defend France in the trenches of the western Front The British were embarrassed the campaign was forgotten and the Australians who fought were dubbed the silent men No contemporary Australian historian has studied the conflict British and French accounts exist but fail to do justice to the Australian contribution Through interviews with the veterans archival records and on the ground research this book seeks to understand a neglected campaign and give it a proper place in Australian history
