responses to the land its cultivation and conservation and its aesthetic qualities and on their views of both indigenous and settler colonial society their class and assumptions of race and ethnicity The travelling men and women perpetuated an idealised view of a colonised landscape and a pioneer community that eliminated class struggle and inequality even though an analysis of their observations suggests otherwise Nevertheless although limited their narratives are invaluable as a reflection of opinions attitudes and knowledge prevalent during an age of imperialism Their perspectives reveal unique viewpoints that differ from those of immigrants who wrote about their hopes and fears in making a new life for themselves These travellers were economically secure literate and educated foundations which provide an insight into the way power and privilege implicit in their writings governed the way they imagined Western Australia in the colonial and immediate post federation period The tinted lenses through which European travelling writers narrowly observed space and people presented a mythical imagined sense of southern Western Australia
