Memoirs Jacob

Rancharan,2019-05-15 Are you a hopeless romantic I believe it s safe to say there s a little bit of a hopeless romantic in all of us a power over our sanity our hearts were granted In movies and fairy tales we see love stories unfold so perfectly before our eyes But we know all too well that this isn t reality though at times I have wished I was one of those story s dreamy guys In a lot of cases love is hard confusing quirky and downright awkward It can be an invaluable treasure once found or an incurable sickness of a broken heart which can t be healed by any medicine or doctor I wish I could say my experiences of love have always been sweet But that would be furthest from the truth because it s much harder to find true love than people think I m not saying I m an expert of love and to be quite frank with you I m learning it as I go Here s my honest and vulnerable story of discovering true love I'll tell you what I know Join me Phillip as I take you through my journey that has more than once left me worried nervous anxious and frantic For to love there isn't a manual so I thought I'd write this memoir as a hopeless romantic

My Young Life Frederic Tuten, 2020-03-24 A love song to a lost New York New York magazine from novelist essayist and critic Frederic Tuten as he recalls his personal and artistic coming of age in 1950s New York City a defining period that would set him on the course to becoming a writer Born in the Bronx to a Sicilian mother and Southern father Frederic Tuten always dreamed of being an artist Determined to trade his neighborhood streets for the romantic avenues of Paris he learned to paint and draw falling in love with the process of putting a brush to canvas and the feeling it gave him At fifteen he decided to leave high school and pursue the bohemian life he'd read about in books But before he could he would receive an extraordinary education right in his own backyard A stirring portrait and a wonderfully raw story of city boy's transformation into a writer Publishers Weekly My Young Life reveals Tuten's early formative years where he would discover the kind of life he wanted to lead As he travels downtown for classes at the Art Students League spends afternoons reading in Union Square and discovers the vibrant scenes of downtown galleries and Lower East Side bars Frederic finds himself a member of a new community of artists gathering friends influences and many girlfriends along the way Frederic Tuten has had a remarkable life writing books traveling around the world acting in and creating films and even conducting summer workshops with Paul Bowles in Tangiers Spanning two decades and bringing us from his family's kitchen table in the Bronx to the cafes of Greenwich Village and back again My Young Life is an intimate and enchanting portrait of an artist's coming of age set against one of the most exciting creative periods of our time so thrilling so precise in presenting a young man's preoccupation and occupation Steve Martin The Listener, 1930
