Autobiography Of John Shaw Neilson:

The Autobiography of John Shaw Neilson John Shaw Neilson, John Shaw Neilson John Shaw Neilson, 1991 No Marketing Blurb John Shaw Neilson Hewson, Helen, 1997-02-11 The selection begins in 1906 when A G Stephens started up The Bookfellow From this crucial point and throughout the ensuing thirty five years we follow Neilson the man farming and working in the bush maintaining caring relationships with his scattered family and finally moving in 1928 to Melbourne and a job as an interdepartmental messenger with the Country Roads Board in Carlton Helen Hewson has chosen and edited her material from more than a thousand existing letters most of which have not been published previously They cover family social and publishing correspondence in addition to the detailed letters about writing poetry which passed between Neilson and his three very different editorial advisers A G Stephens Robert H Croll and James Devaney his first biographer Other writers of the period who corresponded with Neilson included Robert Bridges Mary Gilmore Christopher Brennan Vance and Nettie Palmer Hubert Church Percival Serle and Frank Wilmot The letters are full of revealing details about his association with many institutions and personalities the Australian Literature Association the Bread and Cheese Club Coles Book Arcade the Hill of Content the Hawthorn Press Blamire Young Vance and Nettie Palmer Mary Gilmore Bernard O Dowd Frank Wilmot Victor Kennedy and others John Shaw Neilson A Life in Letters establishes a social background and a literary context which ends any suggestion that Neilson is merely a bush poet or a simple singer This complex poet participated in an intricate network of literary relationships and literary production and it is only through reading the letters that one realises the degree to which he reflected on his own and other people s poetry and writing

Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide Christian Mysticism and Australian Poetry Toby Davidson, Australian poetry is popularly conceived as a tradition founded by the wry secular and stoic strains of its late nineteenth century bush balladeers Adam Lindsay Gordon Henry Lawson and Banjo Paterson consolidated into a land based vigour in publications such as the Bulletin Yet this popular conception relies on not actually consulting the poetry itself which for well over one hundred and fifty years has been cerebral introspective feminine and highly even experimentally religious This book casts Australian poetry in a new light by showing how Australian Christian mystical poetics can be found in every era of Australian letters how literary hostilities towards women poets eroticism and contemplation served to stifle a critical appreciation of mystical poetics until recent decades and how in the twentieth century one Australian Christian mystical poet began to influence another and share their appreciations of Dante Donne Traherne Blake Wordsworth Bront Rossetti Hopkins Yeats Eliot and Lowell

Jock Cliff Hanna, 1999 John Shaw Neilson has been venerated as one of the finest lyrists in all English literature Legends have been woven around the man with the unique gift the genius who gave us the best poetry ever written in Australia In this unconventional compellingly readable study Cliff Hanna puts to rest many of the myths that have grown up around the man his family called Jock An authoritative biography drawing on all the known material about Neilson Jock wears its scholarship lightly Hanna tells a powerful story of a man driven through relentless hardship and family tragedy to express his deepest feelings in a unique poetic voice History Of Australia (Volumes 5 & 6) Manning Clark, 1999-09-13 Manning Clark's six volume history is one of the masterpieces of Australian writing It is also one of the most passionately debated visions of Australian history in which the struggle to realise an Australian nation is played out on an epic scale A History of Australia 1888 1945 covers Federation the Boer War and World War I's Gallipoli It finishes with the story of an emerging Australian identity at the point of its greatest trial the outbreak of World War II This is not a general Australian history it does not attempt to cover all aspects and it is not a definitive or quantitative analysis It is a work of art a living and breathing account of the remaking of a primitive continent history come alive The Uses of Literacy in Colonial Australia Martyn Lyons, 2025-10-14 What did Australians read This book answers this question in terms of books rather than newspapers and considers the long nineteenth century interpreted as running from 1788 to 1901 In the wake of this primary question several others arise how did Australians acquire the books they read and how did readers in the outback overcome the handicaps of distance and remoteness Did they read for pleasure instruction self edification or spiritual sustenance More importantly how did Australian readers respond to the books they read The evidence is drawn from autobiographical sources in which individual readers related their personal reading experiences and responses At the same time the book pursues a second and related question What did Australians write Reference is made here not to the kind of writing we know as literature but to the non literary writing which cultural historians call ordinary writings These are the writings of everyday life represented in this book by diaries journals hand written newspapers and correspondence The focus is wide enough to include the everyday cultural practices of people of low social status and little education The writing practices of the partially literate including writing delegated to a third party have their place here In this double investigation the book draws on evidence from a cohort of 101 nineteenth century readers and writers They are a heterogeneous group of autobiographers coming from Melbourne and Sydney to rural

Queensland and Western Australia They come from the city and the bush from coastal towns and the interior from sheep stations gold diggings and city offices They show us the perennial importance of Shakespeare and the Bible the popularity of the English canon the prestige of poetry and the importance of religious reading Books held the Empire together but as they travelled their meanings changed according to the local cultural environment This book registers such nuances in the Australian context The writing of this group is represented by some prolific diarists and correspondents In the late nineteenth century the eastern colonies became world leaders in sending letters The postal environment which made this possible is also examined The Penguin Book of Australian Autobiography John Colmer, Dorothy Colmer, 1987 Extracts from the autobiographies and memoirs of over forty Australians including Dick Roughsey Kevin Gilbert and Charles Perkins

Australian Literature, 1788-1914 Selina Samuels, 2001 This volume commences in 1788 the year of the arrival of the First Fleet sent to colonize Australia and is the logical starting point since the focus is on Australian literature in English and does include entries on Aboriginal writers who wrote and published in English Entries include those writers who produced at least their first important work before the end of 1914 Collected Verse of John Shaw Neilson John Shaw Neilson, 2012 John Shaw Neilson 1872 1942 received very little schooling yet became one of the foremost poets of his generation Published seventy years after Neilson's death Collected Verse of John Shaw Neilson is a testament to Australia's literary heritage Born at Penola South Australia Neilson spent most of his working life as a labourer He won a national poetry prize in 1893 and contributed to various publications as a young man His first book of verse Heart of Spring was published in 1919 followed in 1923 by Ballad and Lyrical Poems in 1927 by New Poems and in 1934 by Collected Poems His last book Beauty Imposes published in 1938 led Robert FitzGerald to remark that no other Australian poet has Neilson's skill with words and rhythms One of the first post Federation Australian poets alongside Christopher Brennan and Mary Gilmore John Shaw Neilson's legacy of a lifetime's work is perhaps more compelling today than ever before Australian National Bibliography: 1992 National Library of Australia, 1988 The Oxford Companion to Australian Literature William Henry Wilde, Joy W.
