Automating Literacy A Challenge For Libraries:

Automating Literacy Linda Main, Char Whitaker, 1991-04-24 This volume provides librarians professional educators and literacy program directors with a how to guide to the use of computers in library based adult literacy programs Insider's Guide to Library Automation John W. Head, Gerard B. McCabe, 1993-05-18 Libraries are becoming increasingly automated Many libraries have already become automated and librarians have had to confront a new set of problems in their jobs Many other libraries are not yet automated but will soon be acquiring new technology and new problems This book provides detailed techniques for coping with the problems inherent in automation While other works offer thorough coverage of the library automation process this volume provides case studies of the personal experiences of librarians who have had to solve problems related to automation Included are case studies from large academic libraries special libraries public libraries and smaller libraries The first section of the book includes chapters on locally developed library automation systems and how those systems have adapted to change The second section contains chapters on selecting buying and installing automation systems The third section includes chapters on the sharing of automated systems by different libraries The fourth section on database maintenance and conversion contains chapters important to all librarians The fifth section discusses the management of automated systems The book concludes with a bibliographic essay that overviews developments in library automation technology and lists sources for further information Directory of Library Automation Software, Systems, and Services, 1993 Education for Information, 1993 Resources in Education, 1993-04 Handbook of Research on Emerging Trends and Technologies in Librarianship Ekoja, Innocent Isa, Ogbomo, Esoswo Francisca, Okuonghae, Omorodion, 2022-01-07 A fundamental dynamism of the library is its continuous adoption of trending technologies and innovations for enhanced service delivery To meet the needs of library users in the Fourth Industrial Revolution an era characterized by digital revolution knowledge economy globalization and information explosion libraries have embraced innovations and novel technologies such as artificial intelligence blockchain social mediation tools and the internet of things IoT The Handbook of Research on Emerging Trends and Technologies in Librarianship documents current research findings and theoretical studies focused on innovations and technologies used in contemporary libraries This book provides relevant models theoretical frameworks the latest empirical research findings and sound theoretical research regarding the use of novel technologies in libraries Covering topics such as digital competitive advantage smart governance and social media this book is an excellent resource for librarians archivists library associations and committees researchers academicians students faculty of higher education computer scientists programmers and professionals Bibliographic Index, 1991 Preview, 1991 Information and information systems Michael Keeble Buckland, 1991-05-30 Michael Buckland offers an examination of information systems that is comparative rather than narrowly technical in approach With careful attention to different meanings of information Buckland examines the nature of retrieval based information systems such as archives databases libraries and museums and their relationships to their social context The introductory material examines difficulties of definition and terminology in relation to information systems There is a systematic overview of the concepts and processes involved in the provision and use of information systems Buckland s attention to unusual examples to how different aspects interact with each other and to how information systems are influenced by their contents and their context yields interesting insights and conclusions which force reconsideration of common assumptions in information science This volume with its subject index and bibliography provides for students and professionals a valuable and readable introduction to this rapidly expanding field

The Information World of Retired Women Elfreda A. Chatman,1992-09-17 Using the profiles of women living in a retirement community the author explores the information and social worlds of aging women The focus of the study is the effects of aging on help seeking behaviors The author examines ways in which older women search for information she found several areas of need including failing health financial concerns and loneliness For many of the women death was not a problematic area The author also discovered that the most critical areas of need were not shared with others In fact the residents chose to conceal the most dire needs for assistance Surprisingly the retirement community played a major role in this process The relationships between help seeking behaviors and information policy is extensively discussed The role that information professionals can play in bringing information to populations such as the one examined here adds insight to the studies of information use and user needs
