Australia This Changing Land:

Demographic Change in Australia's Rural Landscapes Gary W. Luck, Digby Race, Rosemary Black, 2010-11-30 The distribution and re distribution of people across the landscape has significant implications for ecological economic and social dynamics Movement of people to urban centres mostly from rural landscapes especially in the developing world is a major global phenomenon This can result in the depopulation of rural landscapes Conversely population growth and a changing demographic profile have been identified for particular rural landscapes with notable examples from North America Europe and Australia Yet we know little of the factors that drive demographic changes in rural landscapes and even less about the implications of these changes This book examines broad and local scale patterns of demographic change in rural landscapes identifies some of the drivers of these changes using Australian case studies or comparisons between Australian and international contexts and outlines the implications of changes for society and the environment This book makes a valuable contribution to the literature because it adopts an integrated and interdisciplinary approach by explicitly linking demographic change with environmental land use social and economic factors This integrated approach was achieved by encouraging interaction among authors writing on similar topics to ensure coherency and complementarity among chapters and cross pollination of ideas and perspectives Chapters are presented as interactive and reflective discussions that address the findings of other contributors yet each chapter contains enough background to stand alone as a unique contribution

Linking Australia's Landscapes James Fitzsimons, Ian Pulsford, Geoff Wescott, 2013-06-05 Networks of land managed for conservation across different tenures have rapidly increased in number and popularity in Australia over the past two decades These include iconic large scale initiatives such as Gondwana Link the Great Eastern Ranges Initiative Habitat 141 and the South Australian NatureLinks as well as other landscape scale approaches such as Biosphere Reserves and Conservation Management Networks Their aims have been multiple to protect the integrity and resilience of many Australian ecosystems by maintaining and restoring large scale natural landscapes and ecosystem processes to lessen the impacts of fragmentation to increase the connectivity of habitats to provide for species movement and adaptation as climate changes and to build community support and involvement in conservation This book draws out lessons from a variety of established and new connectivity conservation initiatives from around Australia and is complemented by international examples Chapters are written by leaders in the field of establishing and operating connectivity networks as well as key ecological and social scientists and experts in governance Linking Australia's Landscapes will be an important reference for policy makers natural resource managers scientists and academics and tertiary students dealing with issues in landscape scale conservation ecology conservation biology environmental policy planning and management social sciences regional development governance and ecosystem services
