Ian Frederick William Beckett

Australia Wartime Haven:

Beyond the Battlefield Catherine Speck, 2014-08-15 World Wars I and II changed the globe on a scale never seen before or since and from these terrible conflicts came an abundance of photographs drawings and other artworks attempting to make sense of the turbulent era In this generously illustrated book Catherine Speck provides a fascinating account of women artists during wartime in America Britain Canada Australia and New Zealand and their visual responses to war both at the front lines and on the home front In addition to following high profile artists such as American photographer Lee Miller Speck recounts the experiences of nurses voluntary aides and ambulance drivers who found the time to create astonishing artworks in the midst of war zones She also describes the feelings of disempowerment revealed in the work done by women distant from the conflict As Speck shows women artists created highly charged emotional responses to the threats sufferings and horrors of war the constant fear of attack the sorrow of innocent lives destroyed the mass murders of people in concentration camps and the unimaginable aftermath of the atomic bombs The first book to explore female creativity during these periods Beyond the Battlefield delivers an insightful and meditative examination of this art that will appeal to readers of art history war history and cultural studies

Bodies of War Lisa M. Budreau, 2011-11 World War I marked the first war in which the United States government and military took full responsibility for the identification burial and memorialization of those killed in battle and as a result the process of burying and remembering the dead became intensely political The government and military attempted to create a patriotic consensus on the historical memory of World War I in which war dead were not only honored but used as a symbol to legitimize America's participation in a war not fully supported by all citizens In this book the author unpacks the politics and processes of the competing interest groups involved in the three core components of commemoration repatriation remembrance and return This book emphasizes the inherent tensions in the politics of memorialization and explores how those interests often conflicted with the needs of veterans and relatives

Australia ,1943 Opposition Vanishing Ashley Lavelle, 2017-09-02 This book questions the common understanding of party political behaviour explaining some of the sharp differences in political behaviour through a focused case study drawing systematically on primary and archival research of the Australian Labor Party's political and policy directions during select periods in which it was out of office at the federal level from 1967-72 1975-83 and 1996-2001 Why is it that some Oppositions contest elections with an extensive array of detailed policies many of which contrast with the approach of the government at the time while others can be widely criticised as policy lazy and opportunistic seemingly capitulating to the government of the day Why do some Oppositions lurch to the right while others veer leftward Each of these periods was in its own way crucial in the party's history and each raises important questions about Opposition behaviour The book examines the factors that shaped the overall direction in which the party moved during its time in Opposition including whether it was oriented towards emphasising programmes traditionally associated with social democrats such as pensions unemployment support and investment in public health education infrastructure and publicly owned enterprises as well as policies aimed at reducing the exploitation of workers In each period of Opposition examined an argument is made as to why Labor moved in a particular direction and how this period compared to the other periods surveyed The book rounds off with analysis of the generalisability of the conclusions drawn how relevant are they for understanding the behaviour of other parties elsewhere in the world Where are social democratic parties such as the ALP heading Is Opposition an institution in decline in the Western world

Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend Dr Donna Coates,2023-11-01 War is traditionally considered a male experience By extension the genre of war literature is a male dominated field and the tale of the battlefield remains the privileged and only canonised war story In Australia although women have written extensively about their wartime experiences their voices have been distinctively silenced Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend calls for a re definition of war literature to include the numerous voices of women writers and further recommends a re reading of Australian national literatures with women s war writing foregrounded to break the hold of a male dominated literary tradition and pass on a vital but unexplored women s tradition Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend examines the rich body of World Wars I and II and Vietnam War literature by Australian women providing the critical attention and treatment that they deserve Donna Coates records the reaction of Australian women writers to these conflicts illuminating the complex role of gender in the interpretation of war and in the cultural history of twentieth century Australia By visiting an astonishing number of unfamiliar non canonical texts Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend profoundly alters our understanding of how Australian women writers have interpreted war especially in a nation where the experience of colonising a frontier has spawned enduring myths of identity and statehood
