International Trade Regulation Zhiqiong June Wang, Jianfu Chen, 2023-03-21 The international trade regulatory system is a dynamic system that has been evolving throughout its history Tension and conflict are part of the system While calls for the abolition of the principal trade regulation authority the WTO have failed to understand this nature of the system proponents for reforms have so far not paid sufficient attention to the evolving nature of tension and conflict This book examines the evolving dynamics in international trade regulation from the conclusion of GATT in 1947 to the current crisis facing the WTO from a perspective of emerging powers of developing countries with a focus of China as the latest force that demands reforms of the international trade regulatory regime There is an extensive body of scholarship on ideological struggles the rise of developing countries geopolitical contest the emerging powers especially China the use misuse or abuse of trading rules and so on There is however a lack of a single concise research book that synthesises these underlying causes and factors into a coherent and precise analytical theme This book attempts to fill this research gap by building upon the existing scholarship and placing the various tensions and conflicts in a perspective that treats them as dynamic factors that have propelled a continuing process of evolution of the international trade regulation The book will interest those researching on international trade regulation as well as development studies The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Strategic Arena Switching in International Trade Negotiations Joachim Becker, Wolfgang Blass, 2017-11-28 Since the 1970s global rule making with respect to international trade has increased in importance Political and academic attention has been focused either on global institutions like the IMF the World Bank the WTO and UN organisations or on regional blocs like the EU or NAFTA As negotiations take place in different international arenas these arenas themselves take on added strategic significance with agendas pursued and switched from one arena to another should one route be blocked While dominant actors have sought to use arena switching to their advantage subordinate actors have begun to reactivate alternative arenas of negotiation in order to pursue their different agendas This book employs a multi level and multi arena perspective to analyze global rule making in international trade It explains why actors both state and non state actors prefer particular arenas It also addresses the question of which institutional designs serve the aims of specific groups best and how the rules of the different arenas are related

Market Legislation Vasiliki Kosta,2015-11-05 This book attempts to systematise the present interrelationship between fundamental rights and the EU internal market in the field of positive integration Its intention is simple to examine the way in which and the extent to which fundamental rights protection is realised through EU internal market legislation To that end the analysis is conducted around four rights or sets of rights data protection freedom of expression fundamental labour rights and the right to health The book assesses not only what substantive level of protection is achieved for these fundamental rights but it also estimates whether there is a fundamental rights culture that informs current legislative practice Finally it asks the overarching question whether the current state of harmonisation amounts to a fundamental rights policy The book offers a much more varied picture of the EU s fundamental rights policy in and through the EU internal market than perhaps initially expected Moreover it builds the case for a more conscious approach to dealing with and enhancing fundamental rights protection in and through internal market legislation and advocates a leading role for the legislature in the establishment of an internal market that is firmly based on respect for fundamental rights     PAIS Bulletin ,1917
