victimization at the hands of both Nazi Germany and the Allies became the unifying theme of Austrian official memory and a key component of national identity as a new Austria emerged from the ruins In the 1980s Austria s myth of victimization came under intense scrutiny in the wake of the Waldheim scandal that marked the beginning of its erosion The fiftieth anniversary of the Anschlu in 1988 accelerated this process and resulted in a collective shift away from the victim myth Important themes examined include the rebirth of Austria the Anschlu the war and the Holocaust the Austrian resistance and the Allied occupation The fragmentation of Austrian official memory since the late 1980s coincided with the dismantling of the Conservative and Social Democratic coalition which had defined Austrian politics in the postwar period Through the eyes which have both drawn from and contributed to the general public's perceptions of the country and its citizens. Austria Made in Hollywood focuses on films set in an identifiable Austria, examining them through the lenses of the historical contexts on both sides of the Atlantic and the prism of the ever-changing domestic film industry. The study chronicles the protean screen images of Austria and Austrians that set them apart both from European projections of Austria and from Hollywood incarnations of other European nations and nationals. It explores explicit and implicit cultural commentaries on domestic and foreign issues inserted in the Austrian stories while considering the many, sometimes conflicting, forces that shaped the films.
